U.S. May Try 100-Foot Satellite

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — The United States is seriously interested in trying to launch an earth satellite that could expand to 100-feet in diameter.

This was disclosed by Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, director of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, in testimony given at a closed session of a House appropriations subcommittee Feb. 18.

Crewless Atomic Sub Planned

LONDON (AP) — A British firm announced today it is designing a giant, atomic-powered submarine oil tanker capable of crossing the Atlantic without a single crewman aboard.

The vessel, faster and more powerful than any ocean-going vessel now afloat, could be steered and navigated across the Atlantic by automation. Planners hope to see it launched within five years.

Fire Toll Blamed on Alarm Delay

NEW YORK (AP) — A delay in sounding an alarm was blamed in large part today for the toll of 24 dead in a downtown loft building fire late Wednesday.

The fire "conceivably was going like heck for 10 minutes" before the fire department could get to fight it, Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. told newsmen. He said the loss of life occurred in the first two or three minutes.

Civilians Flee Amid Fighting

SINGAPORE (U.P.) — Rebel quarters reported heavy fighting tonight around the North Sumatran capital of Medan, from which 500 Americans, British and Dutch civilians fled aboard the 20,000-ton Dutch liner Oranje.

Revolutionary quarters here told the United Press that rebel forces were massing with seven battalions north and south of Medan for counterattacks on the important city of 300,000 persons. The sources said the heaviest fighting now was in progress around Lake Tobo, approximately 44 miles south of Medan.

Fabricated FCC Case Phone Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — A National Airlines public relations man testified today he called on Federal Communications Commissioner Rosel H. Hyde while the Miami TV Channel 10 case was pending but not on behalf of his company's application for it.

Milt Dean Hill also backed up earlier testimony by a company official that he had fabricated a memorandum describing a 1956 long distance call as related to the TV case. Hill said his boss was on "one of his periodic economy campaigns" and he made up the memorandum to justify the expenditure.

Document Stirs New Kohler Row

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — A sworn statement accusing four Kohler company officials of shooting a striker in 1934 touched off a new partisan row today in the Senate rackets committee.

Lyman C. Conger, one of the officials named in the affidavit, denounced the charge as a "complete and utter fabrication." If it were made under oath, he said, "it is perjury." Conger, who heads the company's bargaining committee, demanded that John Deis, former Kohler employe who signed the statement, be called as a witness.

Military Pay Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House armed services committee today approved a bill to raise the pay of practically all career servicemen. The measure also would authorize special pay for military skills.

Leaders arranged for a hearing later in the day before the House rules committee in an attempt to clear the bill for House action Monday. In general, the bill would raise the base pay of almost everyone in the armed services except officers and enlisted men in their first two years of active duty.

Lions Trade Dibble to Giants

DETROIT (AP) — The Lions traded away their second veteran in two days today, sending end Dorne Dibble of Pontiac to the New York Giants for a high 1959 draft choice.

Dibble, a former Michigan State star, has been an offensive end for the Lions since 1951 and has a career record of 142 pass receptions for 2,552 yards and 19 touchdowns. Wednesday the Lions traded veteran lineman Ray Krouse to the Green Bay Packers, also for a 1959 draft choice.

Mental Illness in Suburbia? Psychiatrist Says No, But...

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Are the suburbs of American cities truly septic breeding places for mental ill-health, as some social critics have said?

Dr. Donald C. Klein, director of the Wellesley, Mass., human relations service, asked the question today in a panel discussion c. modern life stresses at the 1958 National Health Forum, sponsored by 63 agencies. Then he gave his own answer:

"Personally, I do not think so. But it should be emphasized that we may never be in a position to answer such a question adequately. In the first place, the effects of a childhood milieu usually do not become fully apparent until children are grown."

Critics Right—

To a degree, Dr. Klein conceded that the critics had reason to speak of cracks in the picture windows of modern suburbia.

Such critics, Dr. Klein said, represent modern suburbia as "inhabited by conformist organization men and their hyper-active, frustrated and club-happy wives. These communities reputedly raise their children at a level of a somewhat frenzied, but basically conformist, directed-by-others mediocrity."

Klein said the critics have come up with these results of suburban living: a high rate of psychosomatic afflictions and marital difficulties, family acquiescence to social pressures which violate the family's own standards for appropriate child behavior and an underlying, chronic, gnawing feeling of purposelessness.

Seeking Help—

Although considering that an extreme and unwarranted view of American suburbia, Dr. Klein told his colleagues that mental health specialists are alert to the frustrations, hungers and pressures of the people who make up the outer circles of urban society.

"Residents of our suburbs," he said, "are turning increasingly to educators, the clergy, physicians and others for help and advice."

RO Doctor Likes Suburb

A Royal Oak psychiatrist was asked his opinion of the criticism of suburban living. He said his views may be colored by 10-years of living in suburbs himself.

"There is no proof that I can see that suburban living has a tremendous effect on the emotions of children and adults. Where they live plays a relatively minor role in psychological development.

"It's true that there are more conformists today than 20 years ago, but that's not simply because of suburban living. An answer would take us into many more important changes in the political, economic and social aspects.

"There may be more insecurity today because of industrial expansion, people moving from place to place.

"The critics do not emphasize the positive sides of suburban living. A person has the opportunity to have a feeling of freedom that one does not have in crowded metropolitan centers."

Report Ike Favors Geneva 'Summit' Site

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower would attend an East-West "summit" conference in Geneva, Switzerland, next fall if the Russians offer hope for a limited disarmament settlement and agree at least to talk about Germany, high administration officials said today.

To find out Soviet intentions, particularly on disarmament, the allied powers will begin a new round of intense diplomatic activity soon. The United States apparently has reached the point where it is willing to forego discussions by East-West government heads of the questions of the United Nations veto and Russia's European satellites.

High administration officials reviewing "summit" prospects believe chances are increasing for a first-step disarmament agreement. This might include an inspection-backed ban on nuclear testing for two or three years, an East-West zone to guard against surprise attack and studies on ending production of fissionable materials for weapons purposes.

The United States is not willing to drop Germany as an item for a chief-of-state discussion. Although this government will insist on talking about Germany there is no hope here a summit parley would reach an actual agreement to reunify Germany.

Await Test Results—

Congressional changes in the atomic energy act and successful U.S. neuclear tests in the Pacific beginning next month may clear the way for the United States to change its policy on banning nuclear tests and move closer to the Soviet point of view.

Hope of getting Britain and France to go along with a limitation of nuclear testing is based primarily on proposals to allow transmission of test data to the allied powers.

5th Judge Term Delays Bill

LANSING (AP)—A bill to provide a fifth judge for the Oakland county circuit court temporarily was hung up today in the Senate because of an argument over exactly how it would work out.

As changed before it was approved by the House, the bill provides that the additional judge, to be elected in the Spring of 1959, should take office the following July.

Raises Question—

Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit), observing that a six year term is provided for circuit judges, said the language raised a question whether the fifth judge could serve six and one half years, or only one half year.

In either event, or if the candidate would be obliged to file for both a short (six months) and a long term (six years starting Jan. 1, 1960), clarification was needed, Ryan said.

Deferred—

Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) filed an amendment proposing that the date for taking office be changed back to Jan. 1, 1960, but action on it was deferred.

Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Drayton Plains) said he only wanted to see the bill passed in a manner that would assure its approval by Gov. Williams, who vetoed a somewhat similar bill passed last year.

Eye Unbandaged, Boy's Sight Okay

Doctors at Northwest General hospital, Detroit, said 13-year-old Walter Seger Jr., of Ferndale, escaped serious eye injury in the explosion last Thursday of photographic flash powder. There was no "real damage" to the cornea, they said.

Walter's mother, Mrs. Walter Seger, 253 West Drayton, said doctors may let the boy go home from the hospital Monday "if he continues to improve." However, treatment by specialists may be necessary later, she said.

The youth, a roller skating champion, suffered second and third degree burns of the hands and face in the explosion which occurred when he touched a match to the powder.

Costs Drop in Drain Work

(See Also Page 21)

A construction bid "substantially lower than estimates" has been made on the first leg of Madison Heights' master drain system. The city moved to "quit" South Oakland's proposed Twelve-Town drain in December.

Low bidder on a storm trunk drain from Lincoln to the Red Run drainage ditch, west of John R, was Chris Nelsen and Sons, Royal Oak, according to assistants to City Engineer James H. Salle. The bid is $378,852.

Richard Kempa, a Salle aide, said that Nelsen bid low on the two portions of the job. Eleven firms bid on the larger portion of the job north of Eleven-Mile; nine companies on work south.

Kempa could not say when work could begin. "We haven't got into it that far," he said. The trunk drain will carry storm water only. Salle plans a separate sewage line.

Voters in the city approved the master plan Dec. 9 by voting $1½ million in general obligation bonds. Sale of the notes has not yet been approved by the Michigan municipal finance commission.

The city also must argue its way out of the $44-million Twelve-Town in court. Officials for the Twelve-Town have asked for a court order declaring that the city has no right to quit. No date has been set for hearing.

Madison Heights' share of the Twelve-Town drain was estimated at $2.8 million.

Potter Raps Jap Truck Purchase

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Defense department said today it has contracted to buy $21 million worth of Japanese trucks of a kind no longer made by U.S. companies.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) called the action "shocking" and "tragic" in view of rising unemployment in the American auto industry.

The Defense department said it is buying the trucks over a five-year period which started nearly two years ago. The trucks are Japanese versions of one-quarter-ton, three-quarter-ton, and 2½-ton U.S. World War II trucks, the department said.

These trucks, it said, are no longer produced in this country. The department said American companies would require "almost complete re-tooling" to make them now.

The trucks are being procured from Mitsubishi, Nissan, Isuzu, and Toyoda, firms located in the Tokyo and Yokohama area.

Governors, Ike Differ on UC Plan

WASHINGTON (UP) — Labor department economists predicted today that unemployment will show another increase this month, setting a new postwar record.

They declined to forecast how much the March figure may exceed the February high of 5,173,000 jobless Americans. But they expected the increase to be slight.

The government's figures on March unemployment will be announced early next month.

Cite Bad Weather—

The economists said they expected an increase because of new layoffs in the auto industry and slow-ups in construction and other outdoor work caused by bad weather in many areas.

Unemployment usually declines by about 200,000 in March.

Other developments in the recession picture:

Nixon's Comment—

—Vice President Nixon said in Chicago the Eisenhower administration has evidence the business slump is "levelling off" in some sectors of the economy. He did not elaborate.

—Conflicting statements from governors and Federal officials left confused a crucial point about President Eisenhower's plan to pay extra unemployment compensation to jobless workers who exhaust their benefits. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California and other governors who conferred with Eisenhower said the President offered the states outright Federal grants to finance up to 13 weeks of extra payments.

But an administration spokesman said the states would have to repay the Federal funds later. The administration plan was expected to go to Congress in two or three days.

See Farm Bill OK—

—The House called up for almost certain passage today a bill to cancel cuts in farm price supports ordered by Agriculture Secretary Benson. Democratic backers said the measure would keep farmers from losing a half-billion dollars in income this year. Benson has indicated the President probably would veto it.

Winter Bids Stormy Farewell to East

by United Press

Approaching springtime could leave tracks in the snow over a wide belt of the Eastern states today. Thousands of homes in and around Washington, D.C., lost their light and heat when a heavy, wet snow, eight inches deep, pulled down the power lines. The snow, in a belt from 50 to 100 miles wide, pointed toward southeastern New York and Connecticut.

At Rockville, Md., 14 inches of snow fell, leaving the city without telephones, light or heat. About 18,000 telephones were out of service in Maryland. Schools closed in the Washington suburbs, and traffic on nearby roads was jammed. Two persons died in automobile accidents, and Bowie race track called off its schedule for the day.

7 Inches in Baltimore—

Baltimore, Md., measured seven inches of snow shortly after dawn and Willow Grove Naval Air station in Pennsylvania had 11 inches, weathermen said. Heavy snow warnings, up to four to eight inches, were foreseen for most of New England.

The storm also dumped more than two inches of rain in parts of eastern Virginia and north into lower New Jersey. Meanwhile, gale winds off the Atlantic coast pushed tides as much as three feet above normal from Norfolk, Va. to southern New England.

The U.S. Weather Bureau reported that cloudy skies associated with the coastal storm extended as far inland as the upper Mississippi valley, causing snow flurries en route.

Fair Elsewhere—

With the exception of Florida, which was cloudy and slightly cooler, fair skies covered the southern part of the nation from the Rockies to the Atlantic coast. Far southwestern skies also were fair, but a storm moving in from the Pacific caused general cloudiness through the rest of the west.

Today's forecast showed rains along the Pacific coast, snow in northern parts of the Midwest, rain and light snow in the northeast, and the arrival of spring at 10:06 p.m.

The Weather'll Be—

Bill Would Free Highway Funds

WASHINGTON — A bill to free additional Federal funds for new highway construction was introduced today by Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County).

The bill would permit $2,200,000,000 in Federal funds to be appropriated to the states each year for a three-year period, starting next July.

Broomfield said new highways and expressways could be constructed ahead of present scheduling. Thousands of new jobs would be created," he said.

Under the plan, each state would receive its full allotment of Federal funds for fiscal years 1959, 1960 and 1961 whether funds were available in the Federal Highway Trust fund or not, said Broomfield.

"It is essential that our highway construction program be carried out as quickly as possible," said Broomfield. "Many of our states already are faced with badly congested highways.

"Also many of our states have run into unexpected financial difficulties in carrying out the construction of their Federal highway programs," said Broomfield. "Land costs in many cases were much higher than anticipated. In addition, construction costs rose at a rapid rate."

Dems, GOP Irked at Nixon

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democrats have been fuming and Republicans have been asking questions about what Vice President Nixon was doing last week when he talked about tax reduction.

At the time his comments were generally interpreted as an attempt by himself or in behalf of the Administration to grab the ball and run with it while the other team was still calling defensive signals.

What Nixon said was that he preferred across-the-board tax reduction to massive spending on new public works projects if new steps were needed to revive business. Except perhaps in emphasis his position was no significant departure from that of the Administration.

President Eisenhower himself has snubbed the launching of new public works programs — as distinguished from a speedup of those under way — for a number of reasons. He also has kept the door open to asking Congress for a cut in taxes. But the circumstances of Nixon's move were unusual. He made his remarks at a news conference to which a limited number of reporters were invited on relatively short notice.

Some Republicans have concluded Nixon believed tax reduction was an almost sure bet this year, wanted to prod the Administration and wanted himself and the GOP identified with a politically-popular issue.

Democrats sputtered, objecting to any GOP sneers at their public works drive. Senate Democratic leader Johnson has been pointing out that Senate action taken so far has carried overwhelming bipartisan support.

Holdup Suspects Mute in Court

Two suspects in the holdup of a Hazel Park market last Monday were arraigned Wednesday in Hazel Park municipal court.

James W. Carter, age 31, 913 Fernwood, Royal Oak, and Ray Thompson, age 30, 70 West Barrett, Madison Heights, stood mute before Judge Robert C. Baldwin.

Examination was set for March 26. Both are held in Hazel Park jail in lieu of $2,000 bond each.

Carter and Thompson were arrested in Warren an hour after the armed robbery of Short's market, 24517 John R. The license number of their car was given to police by a woman who saw a masked man emerge from the store and drive away.

Police said witnesses to the holdup identified the two men in Warren Tuesday morning, after which they were turned over to Hazel Park officers.

Industry Faces Problem in MH

The special committee to induce industries to locate in Madison Heights has a couple of local problems to solve.

The city council instructed the committee to meet with C. H. Rogers, to discuss his problems over expansion of Rogers Electric company, 724 West Lincoln.

Rogers asked to have four lots alongside his plant rezoned from single-family to light industry. The plan commission recommended denial. Secretary Robert E. Krause told the council that the commission felt rezoning would compound problems in the area.

The council also referred to the committee a request that land on Eleven-Mile, between Groveland and Townley, be rezoned from commercial to industry.

4-Cent Stamp Chances Better

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chances for a final victory for the 4-cent letter stamp over a 5-cent rate appeared improved today by the choice of Senate conferees on postal rate-pay legislation.

Republican Senate leaders grumbled privately over the make-up of the conferees but said they had decided against any floor fight on the matter.

The Senate named only three conferees on the bill — Chairman Johnston (D-SC) of the Senate postoffice committee and Sens. Monroney (D-Okla) and Carlson (R-Kan). Republicans said the number of conferees is usually five, Johnston and Monroney both were strong proponents of a flat 4-cent rate for letters instead of the higher figure asked by President Eisenhower.

Co-Op Woes Bared by Split

Eugene L. Henderson, director of Oakdale Gardens Co-op Housing in Royal Oak township, today said he is "considering resigning" because of "differences of opinion between himself and the nine-member Co-Op board."

Henderson conceded that he and board members had disagreed over Co-Op finances but denied there had been any mishandling of funds.

"The board wants to reduce my budget and cut my staff from 13 to nine persons," Henderson said.

The Co-Op has a $1.4 million Federal mortgage. On a $303,000 budget last year, $131,000 was mortgage payments. This year, Henderson said, the board wants to cut its operating budget from $172,000 to $127,000.

The Co-Op has asked to scale down its mortgage payments.

The Royal Oak township community has been hard hit by unemployment.

(The Co-Op does not include Royal Oak township homes, a separate project operated by the township government. It does include 590 living units in the northern sector of the township bought from the Federal government in 1955. Stockholders paid an average of $375 down on a unit and monthly payments of about $42.)

Many Adults Think Library for Children's Use Only

A recent, non-selective poll among 37 Ferndale residents revealed that more than half think of libraries merely as collections of childrens books.

The adults polled didn't say so explicitly, but while denying that the library had anything to offer them, they praised it for the help afforded children in their schoolwork.

Not Selective—

Mrs. James C. Young, publicity director at Ferndale Public library, conducted the poll among 37 families on West Cambourne.

She admits that she made no attempt to be selective. The results do not necessarily reflect the "average" attitude of Ferndale residents.

Adults in 20 of the families said they do not have library cards, while those in 17 families do. All school-age children in the block use the library regularly.

Of the 20 non-users, seven said they were not interested in getting a library card. The other 13 said they might go to the library some day.

Reasons—

Some of the reasons for not using the library:

"Too tired . . . too busy . . . crippled and aged . . . television keeps us busy . . . we're just not interested in the library . . . can't keep up with our magazines now . . . only read newspapers . . . "

On the other hand, the number of residents having library cards is somewhat above the supposed South Oakland total of card-holders—one-third of the population.

Most of the card-holders were enthusiastic about the services offered by the library and by the courtesy and helpfulness of librarians.

More Taking Chest X-Ray

Many more South Oakland residents are taking advantage of Oakland county health department's free chest x-rays this year, compared to last.

Ronald J. Clair, health department's tuberculosis coordinator for the Southeastern Michigan Tuberculosis association, reports double the number of last year's check-ups were made this year in Hazel Park and Oak Park. In other cities about the same number of persons had the free check.

Bloomfield township, where the survey was conducted for the first time this year, drew 1,156 persons, Clair said.

So far, South Oakland cities and the numbers tested are: Hazel Park, 1,555; Oak Park, 2,619; Ferndale, 2,451; Madison Heights, 861; Clawson, 774; Birmingham, 613.

The health department is operating five mobile units in the county, taking on the average of 524 tests per day. The tests show suspected cases of tuberculosis, lung cancer and heart abnormalities. Persons examined are notified within 30 days by mail of their condition.

The South Oakland unit is at fire station No. 2, 24833 Nine-Mile, Southfield, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., today and Friday. It will be in Berkley next week and in Royal Oak, April 7-11.

financing features. The bill, designed to create up to 500,000 new jobs by opening the way for construction of 200,000 more homes this year, cleared the House without a word of debate.

The President talked for two hours and 35 minutes with a delegation of eight governors about his plan to extend the period of state-administered unemployment compensation payments.

Neither the White House nor Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois, official spokesman for the governors, would divulge details of the plan. Conflicting versions were given to newsmen.

Knight and Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said the President offered to make outright Federal grants to the states to finance up to a 13-week extension of unemployment benefits. The period and amount of such payments vary among the states but average $26 a week for 20 weeks.

Later an administration spokesman denied the President had offered the states Federal grants. He said the Federal aid would have to be repaid by the states later. He said the governors apparently considered the aid as grants because they would not have to repay them out of state treasuries, letting the repayment come out of higher payroll taxes on employers which would go directly to the Federal government.

Prepare Report on Woods Library

Huntington Woods' special library study committee intends to wrap up its report to the city commission tonight, Chairman John Hewitt said.

The committee is expected to recommend the building of a library costing in excess of $100,000, at Lincoln and Scotia or an alternate site. If the committee agrees on the final report, it probably will go to the commission April 1.

The study group has worked on its recommendations since last spring.

Clawson Schedules Polio Clinics

A record crowd of 1,314 persons received protection against polio at Clawson PTAs second-shot clinic last night.

First shots at the same clinic on the same day last month totaled 1,080. The second polio shots will be given again from 9 to 10:30 a.m., Saturday, in the Clawson high school, on John M west of Main. Third shots are scheduled Oct. 22 and 23.

Persons regardless of age and community may receive vaccine at $1 per shot from physicians and registered nurses. Newcomers under 21 years of age must present a waiver signed by their guardians.

Plenty of vaccine is available. Parking lots are located both in front and behind the school, off John M and Broadacre.

Find Empty Safe

Madison Heights police are looking for the owner of a black, 300-pound wheeled safe found Wednesday by three small boys in a wooded area of the city.

Lt. Joseph Landino said the safe, empty when found, had been pried open by burglars who apparently discarded it on Lenox near Forest.

It was found by Tommy Thompson, age six, 27839 Hampden, and Jerry and William Brow, age 11 and 9, 27845 Wrenson.

Couple Recovering From Crash Hurts

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hauca, 1233 Etowah, Royal Oak, owners of the Long Lake Lumber and Supply company, Troy, are recovering from injuries suffered in a head-on auto collision 20 miles south of Sikeston, Mo., last Sunday.

The Haucas were on the first lap of a two-week vacation in the South. Mrs. Hauca's brother, Nicholas Kaye, 504 Mt. Vernon, Royal Oak, said his sister was in a Sikeston hospital with two broken ribs and possible breaks in a leg or knee, plus severe cuts. Her head went through the windshield. Kaye said his brother-in-law escaped with bruises and possibly some cracked ribs.

Kaye said the Haucas ran into a sleet storm as they were traveling South. A car approaching from the opposite direction hit a patch of ice, the driver jammed on his brakes and the car swerved into the Haucas' path. Both cars were demolished. Passengers in the other car suffered minor injuries. They were returning to their home in Chicago from a Florida vacation.

April Business, Congress' Easter Recess To Determine Tax Cut

(Editor's note: There has been considerable speculation about the administration's real thinking about the current recession and the full extent of plans for combatting it. In the following dispatch, United Press reporter Merriman Smith discloses the current thinking of the President's chief economic consultants and their forecasts of the outlook for the coming critical months.)

by MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — It will be late April or early May at the earliest before the Eisenhower administration decides about a tax cut, according to the President's top economic advisers.

These sources said the administration is waiting to see the business outlook in April before coming to any conclusions on taxes. They said there are also political facts of life to be faced.

Congress is tentatively scheduled to take an Easter recess from about April 4-14. If the lawmakers find home folks agitated about the recession, they will come back demanding immediate action. If there is less excitement in the hustings than in Washington they may return in calmer mood.

To Take Personal Role—

These two factors are responsible for the administration's go-slow attitude on tax reduction. If the President eventually decides on a cut, he is expected to take a major personal role both in drawing up plans and presenting them to congress and the public.

Treasury Secretary Anderson told GOP congressional leaders the treasury is working on many plans for tax reduction but no decision will be reached until the government decides it is time to act.

One plan under study at the treasury would forgive all withholding taxes on personal income for the last quarter of 1958. This is estimated to cost the government between $8 and $9 billion. The plan would keep the corporate tax rate at its present 52 per cent. It would terminate next Jan. 1.

See Weaknesses—

Some high administration officials feel this would be the "cleanest" way to effect a personal income tax cut, releasing a torrent of consumer money that would not have to be paid back to the government later. However they also see weaknesses in such a three-month moratorium as a means of inducing spending. For example taxpayers might use most of the money to pay debts or put in savings.

The treasury also is looking over several suggested plans for cutting excise (sales) taxes, particularly on autos. Officials said however, auto makers may be hurting themselves by agitating publicly for a tax cut and promising to cut car prices. The officials said a lot of consumers may have decided it's foolish to buy cars now when they might save $150 or more by waiting a couple of months.

Plans for cutting business taxes also are under consideration. But some highly-placed administration economists are not so sure lowering the 52 per cent corporation rate would be wise. They say business has plenty of money and confidence is more important than tax cuts.

The White House is not now as optimistic about the timing of the expected recovery as the President indicated early last month. Administration thinking now generally is that it will take until the end of the April-June quarter to halt the downward drift; that then there will be a few months of a low-level "plateau" with occasional "sparks" of increased business activity; more "sparks" during the third quarter; and the economy really picking up speed slowly in the final three months of the year.

Despite that gloomy outlook the administration already sees a few dots of light. At least two major corporations that halted big building projects shortly before January now have decided to go ahead. Within the past two weeks they decided that with money freer, prices down and labor plentiful they could build at well below their original cost estimates —11 per cent less in one instance.

"If this sort of thing gets around," one high official said, "it might be catching and really do more good than many moves by the government."

Psychology—

In fact the administration regards psychology—both of consumers and business—as a major key to solving the recession. Officials point out that while consumer buying is sliding, people and business firms still have large amounts of money.

"We know the money is there and that there are a number of things people want to buy," one highly-placed source said. "The question is, how do you build up their confidence and get them to buy the things they really need?"

The administration effort to restore confidence has been aimed less at the consumer than the executive who can create jobs and earning power. Only the monthly business reports can show the effect of these efforts. That is one reason such actions as easing of credit by the Federal Reserve system are so important in the administration's anti-recession arsenal.

Tax Cut Best Plan—

The administration is prepared to go beyond its present announced step-up of public works if this becomes necessary. But it still feels tax reduction would be a quicker shot-in-the-arm. For one thing government economists feel big public works programs are slow to create new jobs. Plans set in motion now, they say, could not help employment much before November.

Also the administration is concerned about long-range dislocations of the economy that might arise from massive public works programs—especially if such programs had to be halted due to an upturn in the economy.

Great Decisions Groups Debate on Recognition of Red China

Red China — the sore spot that continues to fester in the East—should be salved by recognition and economic help, say most South Oakland Great Decisions members.

But that theory was bucked by half of both the Royal Oak Library and the Royal Oak Kimball groups in sessions this week.

The argument boils down to this: Pro-people say it does no good not to recognize Red China. In fact, they say, recognition is inevitable, and it will reduce world tensions to do so.

Con-View—

The con-view states that recognition will give Red China prestige — and the United States no benefit. At another time, a bargain may be struck by which the U. S. could benefit, it argues.

Con-members disagreed with the Ferndale group and the other half of the Royal Oak Library group that relations should be made normal — even though Red China does control 25 per cent of the world's peoples.

Little Effect—

Some against the recognition felt that more liberal commercial and political policies toward Peiping will have little effect on relations anyway.

The extreme views extended to U. S. military and economic policies with Red China. They are torn between emphasizing economic and military defenses in Asia.

Bolder Decisions members want to experiment with Red China on limited trade, and only with non-military materials. Conservatives indicated that trade with restrictions should be continued, perhaps with recognition that some allies, like Japan, need normal trade with China for prosperity.

Army Draft Call in May Is Same

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today issued a draft call for 13,000 men in May.

This is the same quota previously announced for the months of February, March and April. The new call brings to 2,322,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since the resumption of selective service in September, 1950.

In announcing the May call, the Defense department said that the monthly quotas for the remainder of this year will remain at about the same level.

Today's Tribune Editorial—

Policing Union Funds

FULL DISCLOSURE of labor union finances appears to be one of the first concrete results — in terms of proposed legislation — to come out of the special investigation of the Senate committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.). Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), a member of the McClellan group, is chairman of a subcommittee looking into four general areas: —1. regulation and control of pension and welfare plans; 2. regulation and control of union funds; 3. democratic procedures in trade unions; 4. "elimination of the corruptive influence of middlemen in collective bargaining arrangements."

Kennedy at the same time is sponsoring a bill that would take care of the "priority needs as clearly demonstrated by the hearings of the McClellan committee." In an analysis of his bill presented to the Senate on Mar. 11, Kennedy recalled that the McClellan group uncovered examples of large union sums "expended for doubtful or improper purposes" without the knowledge or consent of union members. The bill, by requiring full disclosure of union finances, is aimed at such expenditures.

It would provide criminal penalties for "union officials (who) engaged in private transactions for personal gain which compromised the rights or position of the members who elected them." It would prohibit loans in excess of $2,500 from union treasuries to union officials. It would require audits and the publication of reports of union financial dealings. And it would establish standards for the imposing of union trusteeships.

THE EISENHOWER ADMINISTRATION has long been on record as favoring full publicity on union funds. In a special message of Jan. 11, 1954, proposing a series of amendments to the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Relations Act, the President asked Congress to "initiate a thorough study of welfare and pension funds covered by collective bargaining agreements, with a view to enacting such legislation as will protect and conserve these funds for the millions of working men and women who are the beneficiaries."

More recently, in a special message of last Jan. 23, the President sent to Congress recommendations of Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell. The first of these was that registration and detailed annual reports be required of all labor, health, welfare or pensions plans "whether administered by employers, by unions, or jointly by both."

REQUIRING REPORTS by employer-run plans as well as by union plans would take the sting out of such legislation for labor union officials. Lane Kirkland, assistant director of the AFL-CIO Department of Social Security, at the 1957 session of Congress urged passage of a disclosure bill sponsored by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) and Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.).

Kirkland noted that the Douglas-Ives bill dealt not only with "just the one-half of one per cent (of beneficiaries) covered by union plans, or the 7.5 per cent covered by joint funds, but the 92 per cent covered by employer-run plans as well." Proponents of the Douglas-Ives bill argued that it would be corrective rather than punitive. Similarly, Kennedy contends that his bill—not aimed primarily at the union special funds—only extends to unions the obligations of "trust companies, investment houses and other corporations."

All Claim U.N. Space Control Idea

by JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beginning to feel squirrely? It's them Russians again. They just came up with an idea that was good propaganda, set the Democrats and Republicans to waltzing, and left everybody exactly no place.

This was the idea: The United Nations should control outer space. The Democrats complained they had the idea first, that the Russians grabbed it, and that the Eisenhower administration should have grabbed it before the Russians.

To all of which Secretary of State Dulles reacted like a man saying: "What's all this I'm hearing? It was the President's idea."

Two Ideas—

Actually the Russians came up with two ideas. Together the Democrats and Republicans jumped on the second one. They want no part of it. But, since the Russians made it an all-or-nothing proposition, the score is: 0.

In their current literary marathon on peace and a summit meeting, Mr. Eisenhower has written Premier Bulganin three letters. Bulganin has written him four. Both men have spent some time writing about outer space.

Last Jan. 12 Mr. Eisenhower suggested "we agree that outer space be used only for peaceful purposes." This was pretty vague. No mention of the UN, but on Jan. 14 Sen. Johnson of Texas, Democratic Senate boss, did mention the UN.

Next Proposal—

He proposed this country take the initiative in suggesting before the UN that all nations "join in the adventure into outer space together." No matter what he had in mind, Johnson didn't quite say the UN should control outer space.

Once again, when he wrote Bulganin Feb. 15, Mr. Eisenhower omitted mention of the UN but vaguely, he talked of "cooperative international procedures to give reality to the idea of the use of outer space for peace only."

Bulganin through all this was even vaguer than Mr. Eisenhower, and both were vaguer than Johnson who on Feb. 3 called for a "joint exploration of outer space by the United Nations." And that wasn't specific, either.

Pull Fast One—

Bulganin never went beyond saying Russia was "ready" or "prepared" to examine the question of banning "cosmic space for military purposes." But the Russians pulled a fast one March 15. They by-passed the letter-writing campaign.

The Soviet foreign office issued a statement, made public at once to get the maximum propaganda benefit, proposing the UN control not only outer space but also the "elimination" of American overseas bases. This was a one-package deal.

Democrats and Republicans promptly turned it down: This country wants those overseas bases from which American bombers could hit Russia in a hurry if the Soviets attacked.

Protest—

But the Democrats indignantly protested that Mr. Eisenhower certainly should have used the first half of the proposal—UN control of outer space—which they said Johnson had come up with first.

Dulles, right after returning from Asia, recalled that Mr. Eisenhower had proposed international control of outer space. Did he? If that's what he had in mind, he didn't say it in so many words. But neither did Johnson.

But there's a real joker in this: If the United States and Russia ever did agree to let the UN have outer space control, both countries would probably be running a regular trolley service to the moon before they ever got down to agreeing on just how the UN would do the controlling.

Both countries have been talking in the UN for 12 years on disarmament and have produced a complete blank. It's even reached the point where Russia is refusing to discuss disarmament in the UN.

Quackless Ducks

CORTE MADERA, Calif. (AP) —The town council here has voted to allow Harry Teff and his wife to keep their three quackless ducks and one chicken.

A neighbor had complained that the poultry was waking him in the morning. But Teff's wife wrote to the town council: "We have three quackless ducks and one hen. They are by way of being pets."

The town attorney, John B. Ehlen, advised the council to give Teff a permit to keep his three ducks and the chicken.

We Pick Letters To Suit Whims

"Letters to the Editor" is supposed to be a means for expression by readers of views on current affairs. The Daily Tribune is the only daily newspaper in South Oakland County which reptesents the 12 communities.

As a member of the Good Government Group—a political group in Madison Heights, I wish to protest. Your newspaper has failed to publish one letter from any member of Good Government Group. On the other hand, you have printed letters and news items and have made the most of them—all siding with our opposition. Why? Are you an impartial newspaper? Do you really believe in freedom of the press? Do you really believe in good democratic government?

Your stand against the incorporation of the City of Madison Heights was obvious—your stand against the Good Government Group is just as obvious. Our people cannot get the true facts and read both side of the argument as long as your newspaper insists upon slanting your news items and editing the letters sent you to suit your personal thoughts.

Many good people are still working for good government in Madison Heights — we are the original backers of incorporation and good government—we will support the stand for good government all the way—with or without your support.

The old adage "You can't please all of the people all of the time" certainly applies to the recent comments involving the schools. Perhaps these people haven't tried to work with the schools.

Starr School is an example of the cooperation that exists between the school and the parents in the never ending obligation of education for our children.

New Roads Planned, Build Them Now

The complaint I have with the present highway program for Michigan is as follows: We were well ahead of other states in knowing our future road needs and where they should be located up until the time that Mr. Mackie took office. Now we are trailing the field. Why did we falter coming down to the wire? Our neighbor states, such as Ohio, are well along towards constructing the highways needed to cope with ever-growing traffic problems. Why are these states ahead of us and why are almost all their funds committed for their highway construction through the 1959 fiscal year?

So far I haven't received an answer to these questions from State Highway Commissioner Mackie.

As a member of the House Committee on Public Works, I am well acquainted with the programs for new highway construction being carried on in other states.

It is necessary for the Highway Commissioner to make decisions and stick to them if we are going to have new expressways and highways in Michigan. Mr. Mackie's announced intention of keeping Michigan's highway program "fluid" isn't going to work, I fear.

To me, and I am certain to the rest of the residents of Oakland county, it is most important to build the roads Michigan needs at the earliest possible time. Action is needed right now. There is a proposal which will come before Congress in the near future to increase the funds for the Interstate Highway System by another $2 billion. Michigan's share of highway money would be proportionately increased under this plan. The purpose of this plan is to help relieve the unemployment situation. But the Michigan highway commission must let contracts for highway construction if it is to do the economy of our state any good. We can't leave it in some cubbyhole in Washington and have it do the job.

Although I am not acquainted with all of the reasons for the proposal in the state legislature to divert $6 million in highway funds to the Michigan State Police, it appears to me that this measure isn't going to solve our highway problems, either. It is my opinion that the State Legislature should give the Highway Department the funds it needs, as Michigan will be repaid nine-fold by the Federal Government as far as the Interstate Highway System is concerned.

Mr. Burns, the rest of the residents of Oakland county and myself are in complete agreement as to the need for new highways to cope with our ever-increasing traffic problems, I am sure. My point is we ought to start building them now. We have the money for the first time in our history. All planning has been completed by experts. All the preliminaries were cleared out of the way before Mr. Mackie took office. If the final engineering of these new highways isn't completed, it ought to be.

Sincerely,
Wm. S. Broomfield, M.C.

Fact vs. Statement in Heights Campaign

A pledge not to use "slanderous remarks against any candidates" and "not indulge in a controversy of personal issues" looks fine in print and has a fine sanctimonious ring.

But while we are being righteous, let's stick with the facts.

The group that made these statements has trouble putting out accurate campaign material.

They claim in their letter that 75 per cent of the cost of widening John R was "paid by the state and county."

It's not true!

The state didn't pay any of the cost. And the division was 50 per cent for the county, with the city and John R property owners

Television Shouldn't Be Child's Baby Sitter

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

THE average parent of young children supposes that TV helps her no end.

She knows the youngster watching TV is not facing dangers outdoors, that he is not inclined to roughhouse or quarrel with other children in the house. She is not bothered by having him under her feet whining, "What can I do?" or "Jane won't play with me!" She can go about her work in peace, can read or entertain guests in comfort while her youngster is mute before a TV set.

Selects Own Programs

Indeed, she often tells the child bothering her to go watch TV. Perhaps she has a set in a room where he can spend many hours a day alone. Here the tot selects his own program, probably Westerns with lots of shooting or other forms of violence.

Occasionally, when this mother gets a glimpse of the programs the youngster most enjoys, she will say to herself, "How horrible!" She may express dislike of such programs to her guests, or at her bridge club, or at church.

But she won't take the trouble to write the broadcasting company about such programs. Neither will she select and supervise the kind of program her child should see. She continues to make TV her baby-sitter.

Mother's Assumptions

At mealtime, this mother may see that somebody says grace. She may hear her child say his prayers at night and take him to Sunday school. She feels smug about these things, assuming that a few hours of exposure to religious influences, which emphasize love and kindness, will far outweigh the ten or twenty hours a week that Junior is exposed to more murder, hate and human violence on TV. She just fools herself.

Suppose her youngster only viewed wholesome programs on the air—and there are some good ones appealing even to tots. Suppose the number of such programs grew to be many. Even so, the young child would hardly profit from viewing TV excessively.

Child's Needs

A youngster needs to spend time amusing himself creatively. He needs to play with children his age. He must have time to talk to somebody, to have his questions answered. He needs to be read to and he needs to read alone.

All this takes time. The young mother who really cares about her child will usually find the time.

(My bulletins "Letting Little Children Learn" and "Why Read to the Baby and Young Child?" may be had by sending a self-addressed, U. S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

Weight Control Helps Relieve Hypertension

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IN a previous column not long ago, I advised you that rest and relaxation in themselves were enough to lower blood pressure for many victims of hypertension.

Since then, many readers have asked: "What about dieting?"

Well, if you are considerably overweight and have high blood pressure—most of those suffering from hypertension are obese—losing weight will also help bring your pressure down considerably.

Battle Plan Needed

But neither resting, reducing or any other single remedy is enough to get rid of high blood pressure permanently. You must attack the problem with a combination of remedies. Such a battle plan can be formed only by your doctor.

If you are overweight, and moderately active, your physician will probably advise a diet of between 1,000 and 1,500 calories a day. This will permit you to lose about one or two pounds a week. In most cases, this is plenty.

Take Light Meals

I suggest you eat four or five rather light meals instead of the customary three heavy ones.

And cut out snacks. Stopping in at the neighborhood drug store for a chocolate malted milk is a fine idea—if you aren't trying to reduce. Having a piece of pie for dessert is okay, too—if you don't have to lose weight.

One chocolate malted or one piece of pie contains about 450 calories. If you are on a 1,500-calorie diet, a malted and a piece of pie take almost two-thirds of your daily food quota.

Thwarts Diet Plan

You must also drink less in alcoholic beverages and soft drinks. The alcoholic and sugar content will thwart your diet plans.

In general, a glass of beer a day may not harm a person with moderately high blood pressure. But if you are reducing, you must consider the calorie problem.

While tea and coffee won't interfere with your dieting, providing you don't use sugar, I advise against more than one or two cups a day for those of you with hypertension. They are stimulants, and it's dangerous to turn to them when you feel you need stimulation to keep going.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

C. R.: I took some aureomycin for pneumonia for about two weeks. Then I developed diarrhea with cramps in my stomach which have persisted for the last five months.

Answer: It would seem you have developed some sensitivity to aureomycin. This is not too uncommon.

Usually, this condition will pass in time, but taking liver injections and vitamin B-12 is sometimes of help.

splitting the balance. With three members of the present city council on their slate, such a misleading statement gives rise to the question: Was it a deliberate falsehood?

They also claim that the water cottage was eliminated "without a bond issue," obviously attempting to create the false impression that the new Dequindre water main was put in at no cost to Madison residents.

The main was installed by Detroit on the condition that water rates throughout Madison Heights be increased 30 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of water used. Last August your water rates were increased 30 cents to help Detroit pay for that main—bond issue or not.

They also pledge that "when in doubt (they will) ask the voters."

That's a laugh! Council has been sitting on petitions signed by over 800 voters who wanted a vote on a primary and lowering the debt limit. Their petitions were ignored on a technicality and alleged forgery. Just who did the forging never has been determined.

Point is that the council had a mandate from 800 voters and they had a moral obligation to put those proposals on the ballot, but they didn't.

State law says that five "yes" council votes could have put the proposals on the ballot, regardless of whether petitions had been filed, or regardless of their condition when filed.

This letter is an honest effort to give you the facts — something we need more of from this group which professes to know what good government is.

From what we have seen over the last 2½ years and during this campaign, I doubt that they do.

Day of Rest

How true it is that controversy causes the lack of harmony in the world today. We should seek to understand one another.

We realize there is a true, and false religion. Some people are sincerely wrong in their faith analysis. (Bible directs so). The burning of widows has ceased to some extent in foreign countries.

The Good Book says "We are fearfully and wonderfully made." The great Creator who formed us gave us sight, hearing, speech, and mind within the brain. He did not give us a soul that cannot die. We are living souls.

The Lord also gave three little words — "Thou Shalt Not — kill, commit adultery, steal or covet, etc."

The Lord directed us to rest the Sabbath Day because He knew our bodies needed to rest. The seventh day is the Sabbath—count it out on your calendar! All in all the Golden Rule is a good law to go by.

I maintain our America is a Christian nation, and we must conform to the laws of our great Creator to obtain further blessings in the future.

"Blessed is the Nation whose God is the Lord."

Sunday Closing? A Pastor Speaks

The proposal that Royal Oak have a law forcing businesses to close on Sunday is a proposal for what may be called discriminatory, denominational legislation. What is proposed is a law favoring certain church groups (the fact that they may now be in the majority is beside the point) in the observance of their worship day. Such legislation would go counter to our American principle of separation of church and state.

If stores are open on Sundays and Christian church people don't like it, they are free not to patronize these stores. Moreover stores (management plus or minus labor force) are free to come to some closing agreement among themselves, if they wish, as our local realtors have done.

I earnestly want people of the various religious faiths to worship in their churches, temples, or synagogues on the days or nights of their choosing, but I don't want policemen standing behind (that is, supporting) my deacons to help with the furtherance of this purely church objective. There are many churchmen, lay and clerical, across the nation who share my convictions at this point.

Subsidize Farmers To Keep Shops Going

Our economy is sick. Of that there is no doubt. There is no doubt, also, the disease is caused by over production.

In a profit-motivated economy there is always a surplus of created goods. Under ideal conditions the surplus is sold to members of an agricultural community. If none exists that is willing or able to absorb the surplus, production must of necessity come to an end or we find ourselves in the dilemma of the sorcerer's apprentice.

The existing agricultural communities are Asia, Africa and South America. Russia has preempted Asia. Africa is in the firm grip of France, Belgium and England, and England has laid hold of South America. What, then, is the solution of our problem of surplus? It is obvious our only outlet is our own agricultural community.

However this outlet is starved due to the ill advised policy of the present Administration. When our so-called fringe farmers were subsidized in some manner the industrial machine ran smoothly. Doesn't it seem reasonable that subsidies should be restored?

It is true they were of some expense but would they be of greater expense than direct or work relief to the urban communities. At least we should be getting corn, wheat, butter and potatoes rather than well kept parks. Perhaps the surplus food might be given to the under-fed people for whom CARE is now pleading so plaintively.

Your Problems . . . by Ann Landers

The Deaf Hear No Better When You Shout at Them

Dear Ann: I have a problem I've never seen mentioned in your column. I'm totally deaf, due to illness, but I've studied lip-reading and have a fair ability to understand.

Although I repeatedly tell people that I have no hearing, they seem to think if they shout in my ear, I will hear them. Sometimes, they get so close to my face when they speak, I get cross-eyed trying to read their lips. Then, lip-reading becomes impossible.

My doctor has insisted that I not withdraw from outside activity, but it's slow torture to attend social affairs. I often have the feeling of being completely invisible because I'm ignored a good bit of the time.

I never make demands or try to dominate a situation. All I ask is a little recognition that I'm doing my best and that I'm not so different from others.

Do people think that because one is deaf, he has no ideas, and therefore, is of no value to a committee? Do they think that because one cannot hear, he cannot speak and ought to be passed over completely in conversation? Please, Ann, print this letter as a service. We who cannot hear need to be heard.—Mrs. E. M. R.

Dear Mrs. E.M.R.: Thank you for writing. Those of us who live in a world of sound often forget that not everyone is so fortunate.

I hope your letter will remind us to be more considerate of our deaf friends. In most cases, the thoughtlessness is due to ignorance and a lack of experience with handicapped people.

It's difficult for individuals who are blessed with the ability to hear and to see to imagine what life is like for those who are deprived of these senses.

A letter such as yours is a sober reminder, and I hope it will contribute to better understanding.

BE SURE, THEN ACT—

Dear Ann: I've been engaged to a girl for seven months. We went together three years, but she refused to become officially engaged until I could buy her an $800 ring.

She works in an office building aeross the street from my dad's store (which I run). I used to drive her home from work every night until she began to make excuses that she was working late about three times a week.

I decided to play amateur detective last night to find out what was going on. As I suspected, she was picked up at quitting time by another guy who looked old enough to be her father.

I phoned her this morning and told her the show was over and to send back my ring. She said she was entitled to the ring because she'd gone with me for a long time and had earned it. What shall I do?—HEP HARRY

If you're sure the guy who looked old enough to be her father wasn't her father, see a lawyer. An engagement ring is a promise to wed. Since she was seeing another man, she obviously no longer intended to keep that promise. Under the circumstances, the ring should be returned.

SHE KNOWS NOW—

Dear Ann: I'm writing in regard to 18-year-old Lu Anne. She wanted to know if it was possible to straighten out a guy's drinking by marrying him and giving him "strength".

I was in Lu Anne's shoes six months ago and wrote to you for advice. You told me not to be a fool and try to play "reformer". You were SO right, but I didn't listen. I married the soak, and in the last five months, I've aged 10 years.

I never know where my husband is, or what he's doing. He stayed on the wagon exactly five days after our marriage and has been potted ever since.

Any woman who thinks she can give her husband the strength to quit drinking is stupid. This is a job for a doctor. Believe me, I know. — EXHIBIT A

Nehru Greets 'Ambassador' Leone and Touring Theater

Ambassador of the arts, Leonard Leone labels his meeting with Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, premier of the Republic of India, as a "most memorable occasion."

Director of the Wayne State university theater, Leone is touring India with especially-chosen WSU actors and actresses.

The group is under the auspices of the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations, administered by the American National Theater and Academy.

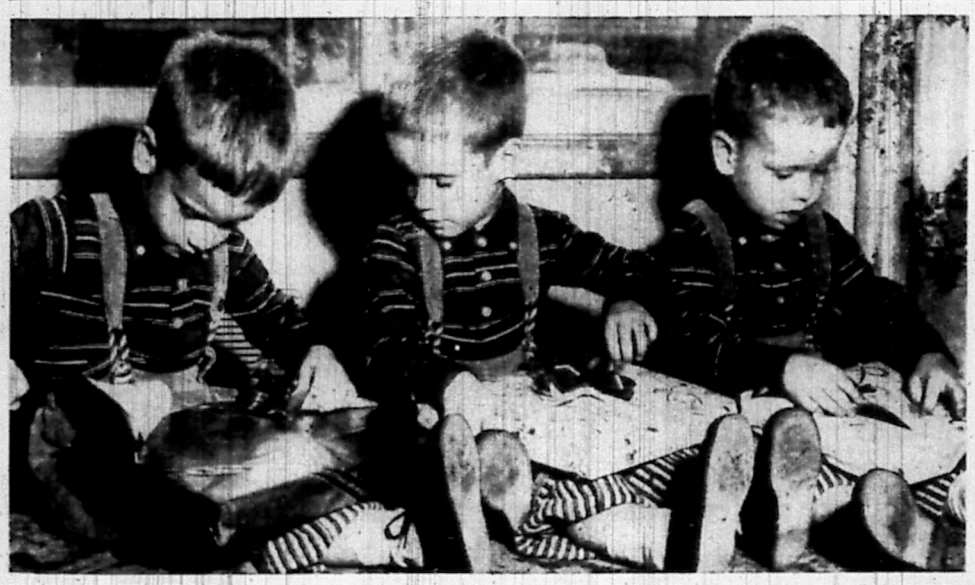

Nehru, who viewed the group's presentations of O'Neill, Sophocles and Moliere in Delhi, invited the group to his home March 4.

Returning in May, Leone is preceded by a host of "rave" reviews from the Indian critics. The group has also received national notice on Dave Garroway's "Wide, Wide World" television program and in Theatre Arts magazine.

Leone's latest letters to his wife, Berta, and children, Paula and Leslie, at 2111 Edgewood, Berkley, are postmarked Calcutta.

CONVERSING WITH NEHRU, Leonard Leone, of Berkley, answers questions about his Wayne State university theater group for the premier of the Republic of India. Leone and his group, touring India, were invited to Nehru's home in Delhi. The Wayne State university theater group is the first of its kind to visit India.

More Easter bonnets and more hats for spring—that's the aim of the four millinery classes offered by the Royal Oak adult education department for the spring term.

The millinery classes begin March 24. They will meet Monday nights, Kimball high school, Tuesday afternoons at the YMCA, and Tuesday and Friday nights at Clara Barton Junior high.

Registrations are being taken now for the millinery classes and others at the adult education offices, 125 Gardenia, or by calling LI 2-9000. Ferndale's spring term of adult education classes also begins Monday.

White House Postmark

A letter from the White House, Washington, D.C., is attracting attention at the Harding school museum, Ferndale.

It was donated by Donald Slaughter, age 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Slaughter, 2814 Horton, Ferndale, in answer to a newsy letter to the President about his activities as a sixth grader and captain of the safety patrol at Harding.

One of the President's secretaries wrote the reply, extending best wishes for continued good work in school activities.

THE DAILY TRIBUNE

Women today

A FITTED JACKET of brown and white checked wool covers the white linen bodice of a dress skirted with matching checks, softly pleated. A bow of grosgrain sparks the neckline and bands the waist of the dress—from Branell's spring collection.

Colenso-Waggoner Rite Solemnized in Berkley

Carrying the lace bridal handkerchief of her grandmother, the late Mrs. Christian H. Krah, Joan Waggoner, daughter of Mrs. Glenn A. Waggoner, 2638 Griffith, Berkley, became the bride of John Colenso. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Colenso, 503 Forest, Royal Oak.

Joan's bridal attire was her sister's gown of candlelight satin, styled with a deep yoke of lace and long, pointed sleeves. The gown was made by her mother.

A crown of orange blossoms secured her fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade of candlelight roses and carnations with satin streamers.

Joan's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Lowell C. Gerard, of Lancaster, Ohio. Mrs. Gerard was attired in a gown of deep pink taffeta which she made.

A headpiece of lattice work satin, entwined with flowers, set off her princess-style gown, and she carried a colonial bouquet of deep blue carnations with streamers.

Mrs. Gerard also made the gown of pale pink taffeta worn by Sherry Lyn, her daughter, as flower girl.

Best man was Frank Stolpe, of Royal Oak. Ushers were Wade Trabue, also of Royal Oak, and Reinhart Tixel, of Detroit.

Joan was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Lowell G. Gerard. The Rev. Thomas Jackson officiated at the 8 p.m., March 1 rite, in the First Methodist church, Berkley.

Two hundred guests attended the wedding and reception in the church parlors. They traveled from Lansing, Cass City, Armada, Ann Arbor and Flint.

To begin travel to Niagara Falls, Joan chose a gray suit with black accessories. A corsage of white roses graced her shoulder.

The bride worked for Romeyn's Prescription Pharmacy, Royal Oak. Her husband, a graduate of General Motors institute, Flint, served in the Army. He is an engineer at the Ford Motor company, Dearborn.

The newlyweds live in Dearborn.

A personal shower, a miscellaneous shower and a combined kitchen shower and spinster dinner honored the new Mrs. Colenso. Hostesses were Sally Whitney, Mrs. Peter Gruich, Mrs. Albert Champagne and Mrs. Roy Leslie.

Show Visits 'TV-Land'

by ALICE HORNER

Master of ceremonies Fred Saylor will make stops at the Clawson bandstand where Dan Kirchner, John Ewers, Wayne Rollain, Glenn Wessels, and Rex Ryckman will play an instrumental "Lullaby of Birdland."

Fred will journey on to the "Johnie Gleason" show where Eunice Brown and Janet Brooks will do a modern tap dance to "Write Myself a Letter." "Mike Mallace" Interviews is another stop in the evening. There Maureen Bozin, Dan Robson, and Bob McKee will interview "Mother Goose."

See Big Top—

After a brief intermission, we will go to the Big Top where we will see Rosemary Yemmans, Sue Parkin, Judy Nichols, Dale Magill, Don Thompson and Dale Schreder on the trampoline.

At the country barn dance, Larry Poole will sing and accompany himself on the guitar to the tune of "Sweet Little Sixteen." As Fred travels through the evening he'll come to the "Terry Como" show where Tom Burley will sing "Big Bass Viole." On the "Leverace" show Jill Turner, Sue Parkin, Edith Thompson, and Carol Hanrahan will do a comedy skit "Smiles."

Cast Sings—

We will return again to the Clawson bandstand where the cast will sing the "Clawson Alma Mater."

The show is the last money-making activity for the seniors before they go to New York on the senior trip. The show is directed by Eunice Brown and is supervised by Miss Enid Freeman and Thomas Raeside, the class sponsors.

For those jobs you can't do yourself consult the professional services directory in the classified section.

Modern Firebug

ROCKLAND, Mass. (AP)—The adage, "Tots and matches cause fires," has gone modern. Firemen extinguished a bedroom blaze caused, they said, by a tot playing with a cigarette lighter.

'TRAPEZE SACK' — This knee-length "sack" dress was introduced in Paris by Yves Mathieu Saint Laurent, young Paris designer who heads the famous House of Dior. It is one of his new "trapeze line" of dresses and has a flared "sack" with a horizontal neckline and short sleeves. A shadow of a waistline is achieved with a self-bow gathered in slightly under the bustline. (International)

Too Popular

CHICAGO (UP) — Fire-engine red has become too popular to suit fire officials here. They decided to replace the traditional flashing red lights on fire equipment with white lights so motorists can tell fire trucks from other emergency vehicles.

SACKS APPEAL—A new "sack" evening gown by young Paris designer Laad Simko is displayed fore and aft at a Paris show. He calls it Athena II. It is of white silk with a tulle covering. Outstanding feature is the upstanding, chin-high, straight-line neckline. The gown is made of less than 2½ yards of materials. (International)

FRENCH HOLLANDAISE sauce gives added zest to broccoli for gala Easter dinner.

Sauce Lends Zest to Broccoli Dish

by CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Chances are that baked ham or roast lamb will star on Easter tables.

For a vegetable that goes well with either meat, choose broccoli with a mustard-flavored Hollandaise sauce.

Don't shy away from making this French sauce!

Satin Smooth—

You have only to be sure that it is cooked over hot (never boiling) water to have it come out satin smooth.

Our own method for preparing the sauce is to use the small bowl in our set of opaque heat-resistant glass mixing bowls set in an iron skillet of very hot water and a small French whisk.

Green and Tender—

The rounded surface of the bowl makes easy the constant beating that is necessary, and the heavy skillet (set over low heat) keeps the water very hot without boiling.

Do cook the broccoli so it is a pretty bright green and is tender but still slightly crisp. Here is our way of achieving this desirable end.

Cooking Broccoli—

This method is fine for a bunch of broccoli weighing from 1 to 1½ pounds; for more broccoli you'll need a larger skillet.

Pare the outer fibrous covering from the broccoli stalks with a swivel-blade vegetable peeler, but don't remove the leaves.

Divid any heavy stalks lengthwise so they and the flowerets are of uniform size.

Wash in cold water, using a sink spray (if available) on the flowerets.

Arrange broccoli in a deep 10-inch skillet that has a dome cover, with stalks on bottom and flowerets on top.

Add a cup of boiling water and one-quarter teaspoon salt.

Cover and keep water boiling until stalks are just tender when pierced with a fork—about 7 minutes; lift cover a few times during cooking to help keep broccoli bright green.

Drain and serve with Mustard Hollandaise Sauce.

Mustard Hollandaise Sauce—

INGREDIENTS:

2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons heavy cream
½ cup butter,

METHOD:

Put egg yolks, mustard, lemon juice, salt and cream in a small heat-resistant glass mixing bowl.

Place bowl in an iron skillet partly filled with hot (but not boiling) water over low heat.

Beat constantly with a small French whisk (tapering globe-shaped wire whip) or a rotary beater and cook until thickened—about 3 minutes.

Add the butter, 1 tablespoon at a time, still beating constantly.

Remove from heat.

Serve at once over cooked broccoli.

Makes about ⅔ cup—enough for 5 servings, about 2 tablespoons per portion.

NOTE: A regular double boiler may be used, if desired, for cooking the sauce.

Make sure the water in the bottom part does not touch the upper saucepan and have it very hot but never allow it to boil.

Weekly Food Shopping Guide

Red Meats Hold the Price Line Except for Special Features

The difference in what you want and what you get at the food store depends upon you. What you see, read and decide makes the difference in being satisfied or dissatisfied with your choices.

As you make the weekly market list, do you consider the season of the year and how this affects supplies of meats, produce, frozen and canned foods, eggs and dairy products?

Supply and Demand—

Do you recognize good quality and keep that quality by proper care and storage at home?

Do you notice that supplies available and customer demand control prices to a great degree?

Do you compare prices of similar foods before deciding which to put into the basket?

MEAT FORECAST—There is little change to report in the red meat picture price-wise. Beef prices are holding strong. Pork prices are steady at the wholesale level.

Fish Featured—

You will find some stores offering picnics, Boston butts, rib roasts, sausage meats and turkey at special prices.

Fish is a featured item in many homes this time of year. Heavy ice in the Great Lakes is the reason for small fresh fish supplies. Fresh herring and smelt are the thriftiest fresh fish buys.

Frozen fish is easy to prepare. Buy packages that are frozen solid, and keep them that way until ready to use.

Thawing Fish—

Frozen fish can best be thawed by taking from the freezer and placing it in the refrigerator for about 18 hours.

If you need to thaw it quickly, immerse the package of fish in cold running water for about thirty minutes. Thawing at room temperature allows thinner parts of the fish to thaw faster than other parts, may allow spoilage of these parts.

EGG MARKET — You may notice a slight change at the egg case. Generally, eggs have dropped a few cents a dozen since last week. Brown or white, quality is the same, providing both have been cared for properly.

Meaning, eggs need refrigeration.

FRESH PRODUCE — Two fresh fruits, guaranteed to give a spring time touch to your meals appear in most produce departments—pink rhubarb and plump pineapple.

Top Quality Rhubarb—

About 80 percent of the hothouse rhubarb in the United States is grown in Macomb county. This year's crop is much improved in quality and quantity over the 1957 crop.

Baked rhubarb holds its shape better than rhubarb cooked on top of the range. Cut stalks in half-inch pieces, place in a covered dish with no water. Bake in a 400 degree Fahrenheit oven until tender. Add about one cup of sugar to 1 quart of rhubarb.

Fresh pineapples come from Cuba. Pick one heavy for its size. A reliable sign of ripeness is that the green leaves at the crown of the fruit can be easily plucked out. One medium-sized pineapple gives at least six servings of fresh fruit sauce.

Fresh vegetable supplies are still below normal. Radish and green onion supplies are improving. A way to add more color to salads for little cost: Cabbage is a good value at an average of 10 to 15 cents a pound.

CANNED AND FROZEN FOODS—Extra space and a few extra dollars can go far in placing food in the cupboard or in the freezer. It is easy to find economical buys in one pound cans of peas, beans, beets and corn; 46-ounce cans of juice; frozen strawberries and peas.

Card Party Aids TB Children

The Compass club of the Central Woodward Christian church, Detroit, will sponsor a 12:30 dessert card-party in the clubroom of the Triangle Furniture company, 818 North Woodward, Royal Oak, Tuesday.

Donations from the luncheon will benefit the children at the Maybury Tuberculosis hospital, Detroit.

Detroiters Mrs. Alex Smart, Mrs. William J. Morriss, Mrs. Cora Mickleborough and Miss Marion Paterson are on the luncheon committee.

$500,000 FOR HER — Actress Sharon Lee cuddles up to Tony Vito but declares, "It's just too soon to tell" whether she will take his offer of a $500,000 trust fund if she'll marry him. "I'm not trying to influence Sharon by this," says Tony. "I merely want her to know that if she marries me she won't have to support me." Vito, a former Marine from Boston, has thrived in California produce business. (International)

EVEN A NEW COOK can bake Hot Cross muffins with simplified recipe.

Hot Cross Buns for the New Cook

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

NOTE TO NEW COOKS: Making a batch of Hot Cross Muffins is a simple procedure that will give you the satisfaction of baking with yeast.

For these muffins, we resurrected the idea of adding a package of yeast to some prepared biscuit mix—a basic quick recipe popular some years ago because no kneading is required.

The addition of a little sugar, dried currants and glaceed fruit (if it's on hand), plus the traditional frosting produces a bread that's light in texture and brown and crusty on the outside.

Hot Cross Muffins—

INGREDIENTS:

¾ cup plus 2 tablespoons warm (105 degrees) water
1 tablespoon sugar
1 package active dry yeast
2½ cups prepared biscuit mix
⅓ cup dried currants (rinsed in hot water and drained)
2 tablespoons finely diced glaceed fruit (if desired)
½ cup sifted confectioners sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla
1 to 1½ teaspoons cold water

METHOD:

Put the warm water in a medium-sized mixing bowl; add sugar and yeast; stir until every grain of yeast is dissolved.

Add biscuit mix, currants and (if used) glaceed fruit.

Beat with a spoon until well mixed.

Spoon into buttered muffin cups, filling them about two-thirds full.

Let stand in a warm place, free from draft, about 1 hour.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 25 minutes.

Remove to wire rack to cool.

Mix until smooth the confectioners sugar, vanilla and enough cold water to make a rather thick consistency.

With a small spoon mark a cross on each muffin with the frosting. (Experienced cooks may wish to use decorating frosting in a decorating tube to mark crosses.)

Makes 12 medium-sized muffins.

NOTE:

You may use this method for letting the dough rise in a "warm place, free from draft."

Place the dough-filled muffin cups on a middle or top rack in the unlighted oven; on the rack below place a roasting pan filled with boiling water.

In about 20 minutes or so, when the water will be cool, empty the pan; refill it with boiling water and replace it in the oven.

Take both pans out of the oven when you have to turn it on to preheat it for baking.

Cover the dough in the muffin cups with a tea towel and place it near the range (out of a draft) so it will keep warm until the oven is the correct temperature.

Concert Series Brings Top Artists for SOC Performances

Opportunity to hear "Carnegie Hall" music right here in South Oakland will knock on every resident's door next week.

Community Concert association will sell season memberships from Monday through Saturday.

The association presents such artists as the Obernkirchen Children's choir, vocalist Norman Scott, Pianist Sacha Gorodnitzki, instrumentalist Michael Rabin and Teddy Wilson of concert jazz fame.

As a bonus, new members may attend this season's last concert. The Mauney Twins, duo-pianists, will appear March 28 at Royal Oak Dondero high school auditorium.

Royal Oak is one of 10 South Oakland communities which has been sponsoring concert attractions for the past 11 years through the Community Concert association.

Adult memberships are $6; student memberships, $3. No single admissions are sold.

Four or more concerts will be presented next season, depending upon the number of memberships sold. The concerts will be given in the Oak Park high school auditorium, where a lobby permits smoking at intermission and parking is available.

Mrs. S. J. Duncan of Birmingham is campaign chairman. Association members will meet Monday for a 6:30 p.m. "kick-off" buffet in the Royal Oak Woman's clubhouse.

Only Insects Would Survive Atomic Disaster

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — If an atomic radiation disaster struck the world, what would survive?

Lt. Col. Samuel O. Hill says that of the land creatures, it would be the insects.

They can survive 100 times the amount of radiation that humans and animals can take, he said in a statement from 4th Army headquarters here. He is chief of entomology of the 4th Army medical laboratory.

He arrived at his opinion through tagging wood ticks for identification by a radioisotope method.

He discovered they can absorb as much as 60,000 Roentgens without death. It normally takes from 450 to 600 Roentgens to kill an animal or human. A Roentgen is a unit of measure of radiation.

Said the colonel, "should man destroy himself with awe-inspiring weapons and inventions, both man and animal could perish, leaving nothing but hardy insects to repopulate the world." He said he did not have information on how well fish could survive.

Top Earners Get the Girl

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau reported officially what many men have long suspected: The fellow with the higher income is more likely to get the girl.

The bureau's study of marital status and income showed that 96½ per cent of men over 35 who have incomes of $6,000 and more are married. Only 71 per cent of those with incomes under $2,000 have wives.

Straight-facedly, the bureau commented: "These facts suggest that men with better-than-average earning power have the best chances of being selected as marriage partners."

The bureau added another thought which might have seemed self-evident: "Furthermore, family responsibilities probably tend to encourage most married men to seek a substantial livelihood."

Lathrup Letters Argue Sewers

Lathrup's letter brigades are attacking and counter-attacking again over the city's sewer problems. Residents are receiving two separate letters this week from opposite sides of the fence.

Former Mayor John G. Campbell has sent a letter to every home. This is the same letter that he sent to the city council three weeks ago. It vehemently attacks the council's sewer program.

City Letter—

The city is sending out a letter today. This letter partially answers some of Campbell's charges and explains just what the city proposes to do to end pollution of the Rouge.

Lathrup will appear before Circuit Court Judge H. Russel Holland March 25. Holland may order the city to build a $295,000 sanitary trunk-line sewer system. This means residents will not have to approve bonds for this project.

This is not the first time Lathrup residents have been flooded with printed matter. Just before the storm sewer vote in February (a $696,000 storm sewer system was proposed) a group called the "Committee for Better Government" sent out a number of pamphlets opposing the plans.

Answer Charges—

The city answered this group's charges with a letter and two telegrams from the city's consulting engineers. However, voters rejected the storm sewer system.

The city council, which is still trying to find a way to drain storm water out of the city, will meet with state and county drain officials tonight. The meeting is at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

Oak Park Buys Library Furniture

Oak Park bought $6,133 worth of furnishings this week for the city's new library on Oak Park boulevard west of Coolidge. The library, along with the community center and swimming pool, are expected to open June 1.

Separate contracts were awarded to the four lowest bidders. Furnishings will arrive within 30 days. The city's budget had provided $8,000 for library furnishings. Remaining money may be used later.

Alexander-Lamport company will deliver all the furniture for $1,976. Three librarians' desks will be delivered by Robinson Furniture company for $996.

The large "charging in-and-out" desk was bought from the Great Lakes Show Case company for $800. Operational equipment will be furnished by the B. F. Farnell company for $2,361. All the companies are from Detroit.

Taxpayers Favor Selves in Errors

CHICAGO (AP) — Many persons get an arithmetical mental block when they figure their income taxes—but two out of every three of their mistakes are in their favor.

This was reported by Commerce Clearing house an an analysis of the 1957 annual report of the Internal Revenue service.

The internal revenue people, using electronic computors, checked the accuracy of the arithmetic in 11 of every 12 returns filed. This is what resulted:

Bills averaging $90 each were dispatched to 1,090,000 taxpayers who underpaid a total of $98,423,000. Automatic refunds averaging $70 each and totaling $42,979,000 were sent to 615,000 taxpayers who overpaid.

Nasser Interview Set

Wallace To Go Off April 19; May Return

by WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (AP) — The channel swim: MGM and Robert Saudek associates (producers of "Omnibus") are negotiating a deal which would see Saudek produce six big, big spectaculars for TV next season at a budget of $350,000 per show.

Mike Wallace loses his ABC-TV time spot and sponsor after April 19. Evangelist Billy Graham will take over the Wallace slot with a series of telecasts from the San Francisco Cow Palace starting May 3. Insiders say Wallace has a good chance of landing a new time spot on ABC-TV with his interview show or his new drama show, "Motive." Mike recently spent $65,000 on the pilot film of "Motive."

Wallace expects to take off for Egypt this weekend to interview President Gamal Abdel Nasser. As a result, Wallace has cancelled his live interview Saturday with Lillian Roth and will substitute a filmed talk with actor Tony Perkins.

Hope on 'Nightline'—

ABC radio will junk all of its live shows except "The Breakfast Club" . . . Les Paul had to cancel out of the March 29 CBS-TV "Jimmy Dean show"—he's in the hospital with bronchial pneumonia. The Short twins, recent Arthur Godfrey "Talent Scout" winners, will fill in.

Garry Moore's mother is ill in Baltimore . . . "High Adventure" was renewed for another hitch on CBS-TV next season . . . Bob Hope will chat for 30 minutes on NBC radio's "Nightline" tonight about his visit to Moscow . . . NBC-TV's "Suspicion" out-Trendexed CBS-TV's "Studio One" Monday, 21.5 to 17.5.

CBS radio is building a two-hour spectacular for May 4 that will feature Ralph Bellamy, Robert Preston, Andy Griffith, Herb Shriner, Judy Holliday, Edgar Bergen, the Ames brothers, Edie Gorme and Andy Williams . . . Bess Myerson has been absent from CBS-TV's "Big Payoff" this week because her 10-year-old daughter, Barbara, caught the measles in Miami.

Big Kraft Plans—

Talent associates, the outfit that is rejuicing NBC-TV's "Kraft Theater," is planning a two-part "All the King's Men" (May 7, 14), F. Scott Fitzgerald's "Last of the Belles" (April 30), Bret Harte's "Outcasts of Poker Flat" (no date), and a dramatization of "Angry Harvest," a recent novel written in a Polish prison by Hermann Field and Stanislaw Mierzenski (April 23).

"Wingo," the new CBS-TV quiz which replaces "the Eve Arden show" April 1, will offer a top prize of $250,000—Bob Kennedy will emcee . . . Johnny Carson, who guests on the NBC-TV "Polly Bergen Show" Saturday, will unveil a new routine about a comedy team called "Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen."

Sid Caesar's ABC-TV show Sunday won't be live—it'll be on video tape. Bob Hope's April 5 NBC-TV show won't be composed entirely of footage shot in Moscow — He's also going to splice in a portion that salutes baseball stars Duke Snider, Willie Mays and Lew Burdette.

'Sally' Departs—

The sponsor of NBC-TV's "Restless Gun" offered an interesting premium for aspiring juvenile delinquents the other night—a booklet entitled "the secrets of the fast draw."

NBC-TV's "Sally" will be replaced April 6 by a series called "No Warning"—it's just a new name for the old NBC-TV series, "Panic" . . . Toby Reed has almost sewed up the emcee job on CBS-TV's "Top Dollar" which bows in March 29—the show was titled "Lucky Dollar," but was re-titled because its cigaret sponsor didn't like the word "Lucky."

Kim Hunter came out of last Thursday's CBS-TV "Climax" show, "So Deadly My Love" with five arm bruises, four black-and-blue marks on her legs and seven scratches. It was Miss Hunter who had her jaw dislocated on a recent "Playhouse 90" show by co-star Richard Kiley.

First Mink—

Jill Corey of NBC-TV's "Your Hit Parade" bought her first mink coat . . . Hans Conreid reports for work next month as the heavy in a new TV series, "Target"; which will be filmed in Hollywood.

Garry Moore's 60-minute show on CBS-TV next season will be a variety show built along the lines of the Steve Allen show . . . "Playhouse 90" was renewed for another season on CBS-TV.

ABC-TV is planning to run in some quickie fillers for three of its fading shows: "Face of America" replaces "O.S.S." Monday, "Holiday Handbook" goes in for "Walter Winchell File" April 4, and "Your Neighbor, the World" takes over for "Scotland Yard" April 6.

Five of the new shows you'll see on CBS-TV next fall are: "Pursuit," "The Magnificent Montague," "Philip Marlowe," "Rendezvous" and "Suspense." The Marlow show will be live.

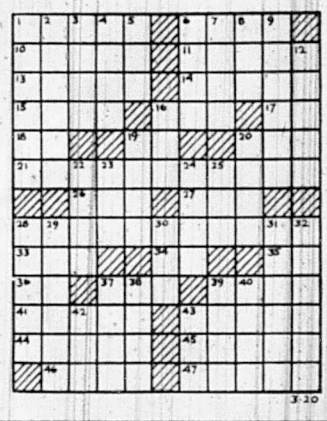

Frank Sinatra is ready to throw in the sponge on his ABC-TV half hour show—if he comes back next season it'll be on a monthly basis . . . With Marlon Brando and Laurence Olivier out of the picture, the role of "Heathcliff" in CBS-TV's "Wuthering Heights" May 9 spec now looks like it will go to Richard Burton.

Players Move Into 'Dome'

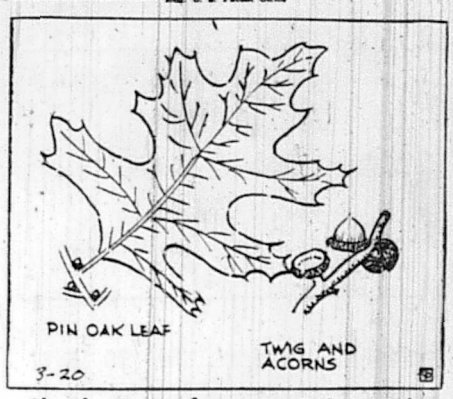

Northland Playhouse Inc., will open in early June for its third summer season. Work is now underway for an entirely new indoor theater, Kenneth Schwartz, producer, said.

The Geodesic Dome, used by Northland Center as a special events building, will be rented by the new corporation. It will be erected in the same general area that the tent-playhouse occupied for two years, just north of J. L. Hudson drive west of Greenfield.

New plans call for a 1,000 seat auditorium with the stage at one end. "The charm and intimacy of theater in the round will be retained but with all the sight and hearing advantages of regular proscenium staging," Schwartz said.

Shade Trees for Home Grounds

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Distributed by Central Press Association

A GARDEN lends charm to one's home, trees give it dignity. They also enhance the value of the property. Therefore, when selecting trees for planting on the home grounds, choose long-lived ones which become more beautiful with age. Do not plant trees which are likely to break easily in storms. Also avoid untidy trees.

Short-lived trees are the silver maples, Scotch pines, willows, poplars and cottonwood. Long-lived trees are the oaks, red pines, sugar maples and beeches.

The pin oak is one of the most attractive oaks native to North America. It makes an excellent shade tree for home grounds. It grows rapidly into a symmetrical lawn tree. When it is in foliage, its cut leaves give the tree a lacy appearance. A leaf is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. In the autumn its brilliant red coloring and the acorns it bears make it still more attractive.

Its acorns differ somewhat from those of other oaks in that they are wider than long, as shown in the Garden-Graph.

The pin oak can be planted in April just as the leaf buds are coming to life and before they are fully open. Small trees may be moved with bare roots. When planting this tree do not trim the leader or main branch. Other branches can be trimmed back if necessary to "shape" it.

The pin oak is a hardy tree and can be planted with assurance that it will thrive even under "city conditions."

Open Investigation of N.Y. Textile Plant Fire Fatal to 24 Workers

MH Changes Campbell Paving Plan

Madison Heights officials will study a new plan for paving Campbell north of Twelve-Mile: capping one block between Huntington and Girard to offer all-weather access to Lessenger school.

Set aside for the time being are plans to pave Campbell between Huntington and Thirteen-Mile by a general tax. The estimated cost is $67,301.

Approved—

The larger paving project was proposed by Councilwoman Virginia M. Solberg two weeks ago. She asked that money be set aside in the 1958-59 budget. It was approved by a 4 to 3 vote.

But other councilmen called it a political move and set off debates. Councilman Charles B. Edwards Jr. said it was illegal to appropriate budget funds without the vote of at least five councilmen.

Changes Mind—

The plan was changed Wednesday when Councilman George Sargeant changed his mind and voted for the one-block paving. The vote came after a long argument.

A resident brought up the matter at 11:10 p.m. He waved a letter from the "Good Government Group," a political club headed by Mayor Lloyd H. Ferguson, Mrs. Solberg and Councilman Darrel K. Davis. The letter—circulated in subdivisions alongside Campbell—invited residents to come to the council meeting to registered their opinions.

The audience — a standing-room-only crowd—also called for discussion.

Mayor Ferguson handed the ball to Edwards, who said, "I wasn't going to bring it up because the manager and attorney said all our road funds are tied up in John R. So we can't pave it anyway."

Confusion—

Ferguson said he thought there was some confusion. He said the original Campbell motion was to ask City Manager Jack P. Sweitzer to make a recommendation. Edwards charged, "Mrs. Solberg asked that it be put in the budget. That motion has been changed."

Council Theodore Krenn called for a report on paving the one-block stretch of Campbell. He was supported 4 to 3 by Edwards, Sargeant and John B. Mielbrandt.

BLOOD TELLS — Dr. Winston Price, director of the division of medical exology at Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health in Baltimore, has discovered a method of diagnosing any illness from a blood sample, according to a copyrighted story in the Baltimore News-Post.

Drop of Blood May Tell Ills

BALTIMORE (AP) — Studies at Johns Hopkins indicate it may be possible to diagnose many diseases simply by analyzing a drop of blood.

However, the announcement cautioned that studies to date are not conclusive. Many hundreds and possibly thousands of tests will be required for each disease before conclusive results will be known. The diagnoses are obtained by studying one group of blood constituents, the mucoproteins or serum mucoids.

The theory of Dr. Winston Price, who was in charge of the tests, is that blood particles take on characteristics peculiar to a certain disease whenever the disease is present.

The blood particles might determine if the patient has cancer, tuberculosis, ulcers, heart disease or some other disease.

Dr. Price, who last fall isolated one of the common cold viruses and developed a vaccine to combat it, had 31 co-workers at the Hopkins medical institutions in his blood tests. They studied the blood of patients with 15 diseases and compared the findings with the blood of 23 healthy persons.

State May Get Works Funds

WASHINGTON — Michigan will receive more than $7,500,000 in additional public works funds if a request by President Eisenhower is approved by Congress, said Congressman William S. Broomfield (R - Oakland county) today.

The money is part of a $125,250,000 appropriation the President has requested for civil works projects to be constructed by Army engineers, said Broomfield.

Proposed for Michigan is an extra $5,500,000 to deepen the connecting channels of the Great Lakes to 27 feet.

The Detroit River, the St. Clair River and other channels between the Great Lakes will be deepened ahead of schedule if the extra money is approved, said Broomfield. Money for the dredging would be increased from $18,000,000 to $23,500,000.

Most of Life Loss Blamed on Hysteria

NEW YORK (AP) — The city began a probe today of the loft building fire on lower Broadway which took a toll of 24 lives — 18 women and six men. Two state agencies also entered the investigation.

The flash blaze, touched off by an explosion in a third-floor textile plant late Wednesday, shot smoke and flame into a fourth-floor underwear factory, causing panic among 36 workers. Many were burned beyond recognition, but a medical examiner said most of the victims were asphyxiated before they were engulfed by flames.

Fifteen persons were injured. Three of them were treated and sent home. The remaining 12—including a truck driver who aided the firefighters — were hospitalized and two of them were described as in critical condition.

No Violations—

Although saying there was no evidence of fire law violations on the premises, Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. ordered an investigation. In Albany, Gov. Averell Harriman ordered the state department of labor and division of safety to investigate the fire in cooperation with city officials.

At the scene of the blaze, where six women leaped from windows to the street, Cavanagh commented:

"It would seem that panic played a most important role in this blaze. Some bodies were piled one on top of the other—evidence of mass hysteria. At least three jumped from windows where there was no evidence of smoke or flame."

Mrs. Edna Murray, age 33, employed in the workrooms of the Monarch Underwear corporation, who was led to safety by firemen, said: "There was heavy smoke. It was hard to see. People were bumping into each other. It looked like a panic."

The blaze broke out when an oven exploded on the third-floor textile factory in the five-story structure. A bolt of fabric was being treated in the oven when the blast came. The three employes on the third floor escaped unharmed, as did persons on all other floors but the fourth.

Five alarms brought 200 firemen and dozens of pieces of equipment to the scene. But it was almost two hours before the firefighters, repeatedly balked by intense heat and smoke, were able to enter the fourth floor by aerial ladder.

They saw bodies piled atop one another. Some were heaped near the doorways, others lay under work tables and benches, and some were huddled near windows.

Still alive amid the charred ruins were an unidentified woman and a man. The woman had saved her life by crawling into a large metal container which shielded her from the flames. The streams of water being poured onto the fire cooled the metal enough to keep her from being roasted to death. The man was found flat on his face hugging the floor.

It was the worst fire in the city since Dec. 3, 1956, when nine persons perished and 247 were injured in an explosion and fire on a Brooklyn pier.

The scene of the fire is just three blocks away from the site of the Triangle Shirtwaist company fire on March 23, 1911, that killed 145 persons.

Clawson Sets Drain Hearing

Clawson city council has set an April 15 public hearing on assessments for drains to relieve flooding in the area surrounding the new Hunter elementary school. Before then it hopes to have Clawson school board commit itself to paying a share of costs.

City Engineer Leonard G. Hendricks said building of the school aggravated a drainage problem. Homes and backyards on low land flood.

Hendricks plans to install a six-inch drain around the school grounds and connect it to a city trunk line. He estimates assessments at one cent per square foot in the following area:

The east side of Boschma, between Lincoln and Fisher; the east end of Fisher; the south side of Roth; the west side of Lerner and the north side of Lincoln. Assessments are figured to include school participation. Entire lots will be assessed.

Hendricks said, "We have a letter from the school board asking us to eliminate the problem. But they didn't commit themselves to paying."

Madison Walk Talks Stopped

Madison Heights councilmen let out the line to an overflow crowd of voters Wednesday night —then reeled it in hurriedly when the audience took too big a bite.

The crowd filled the basement council chamber, the stairs and the sidewalk in front of city hall. Many were on hand to protest against a developer's truck drivers using residential streets in Spoon-Shacket subdivision, Twelve-Mile near Campbell.

After the council banned truck traffic Councilman Theodore Krenn said, "As long as all these people are here, I move that we waive the agenda for 10 minutes to take up other items of interest to them." Krenn wouldn't tell Mayor Lloyd H. Ferguson what the matters were and they squabbled, but the council agreed unanimously to waive. All seek re-election April 7.

Krenn said he felt the developer of Royal Madison shopping center at Twelve-Mile and Campbell should stretch a sidewalk across six lots he owns alongside the stores.

A resident followed Krenn's lead. He said, "As long as we're talking about sidewalks, how about one to John R from Lamphere school? The kids there have been puddling through the mud for a long time." Lamphere school is on Thirteen-Mile.

This brought another resident to his feet—with an idea for a walk at another spot. Ferguson told him he would have to wait until the council voted on the shopping center walk.

But Councilman Charles B. Edwards Jr. moved quickly after the vote to put the council back on its written agenda. All agreed.

A representative of the shopping center agreed to building a sidewalk there, but the council did not discuss a walk at Lamphere school.

Cuts Floods, Cost

Dry Weather Proves Boon to 12-Town

Is the weather, ordinarily no respecter of man or his works, cooperating with the law?

So far this year, it has been dryer than normal.

A good thing, in the opinion of Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, who with the local officials are sweating out what they hope may be the final delays on the Twelve-Town drainage project.

Nearly three months have elapsed since the conclusion of circuit court hearings on tricky legal questions wrapped up in the Twelve-Town. Until Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland renders his decision on the suits of Troy and Southfield against the drainage project, no progress can be made toward reducing South Oakland's periodic flooding.

Like It Dry—

Late winter-early spring is usually such a flood period.

But precipitation this month to date has been less than one-third of that for March a year ago, Detroit weather bureau records show.

In fact, the bureau says rain and snowfall since Jan. 1 has been "way below normal" (October and December just before, was above normal). The recording pen of The Daily Tribune's gauge hasn't quivered off zero for 10 days.

"We have been lucky," says Twelve-Town Coordinator Ashton J. Berst. "I hope we stay that way."

Wait for Court—

Holland's decision must cover a number of constitutional points and is certain to be appealed. In fact, until the state supreme court decides on the $44 million plus project, it can't be financed.

Barry had hoped to get construction contracts awarded and work started this summer or early fall.

"We were hoping to get the case before the June term of the supreme court," Barry said. "We are still hoping, but it is getting close."

Delay is nothing new for the proposed system of trunk drains. They were first suggested nearly eight years ago.

Delay Saves Cash—

Recent delays, despite flood risks, have worked in the public interest, however, Barry said. "Construction costs have levelled out, contractors are looking for work, and interest costs have dropped."

At last summer's interest rates, financing would have added about $29 million in interest charges atop construction costs. Barry said a considerably lower rate is in prospect now. "There is a possibility of shaving maybe $9 million off the interest cost."

Barry said the engineering plans have been broken into 21 segments for bidding.

Other Projects—

"We are also getting ready for the new sewage intereceptor on Dequindre and for the covering of the Red Run."

Those two projects are separate from the Twelve-Town financing, although part of the overall drainage - sewage disposal systems.

Barry said the interceptor will be financed through the service charges on water bills as in the present interceptor. The Red Run cover will become a property tax.

MH Candidates Explain Letter

Dewey L. Outen, candidate for mayor of Madison Heights, explained the use of the phrase "the Ecorse of South Oakland" in a recent letter to voters.

The letter was signed by Outen and council aspirant Robert E. Krause—the OK team.

Calling for a "restoration of dignity to the council chambers," Outen and Krause said that, if elected, they would rid the city of the Ecorse tag.

Outen told The Daily Tribune: "We meant the type of publicity we've had in Madison Heights—we're not implying that there is graft here.

"While some people may get that idea, that isn't what we meant."

In Clawson

New Fire Truck Almost Ready

Clawson's new fire truck may be in operation next week—and it may not be too long before it has a home of its own.

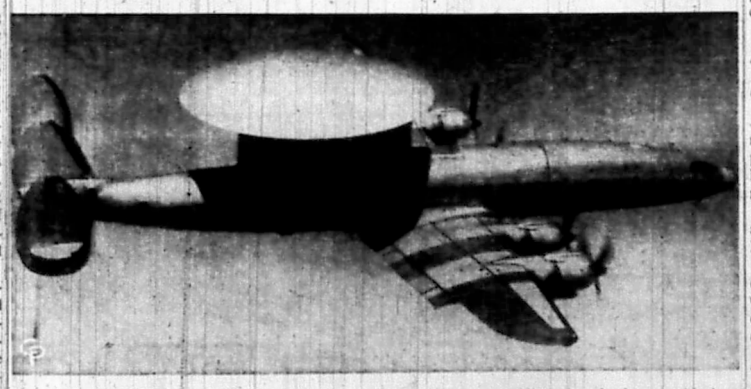

The new pumper, which supplies 1,000 gallons of water a minute, has had to wait for hose and other equipment before it could be used. City Manager Robert O. Wright said the equipment should arrive next week.

Furthermore, the Clawson city council has authorized seeking bids on a new building to house the pumper. At present it is kept in a building belonging to the Clawson Auto Wash. It will stay there until a new cement block structure is erected on a city-owned lot 20 feet west of the present fire hall where Clawson's two other fire engines are stored.

The new building will cost about $8,800 minus the cost of work the city's firemen can donate—like plumbing, heating and some of the painting.

A special meeting of the council and planning commission will be held at 8 p.m., next Wednesday to decide on additional expenses in bringing the present fire hall up to city building specifications and removing the fire hazards which the building now has.

Council members also said they want to discuss future construction of a combined police, fire and city office building.

NAVY'S AIRBORNE SAUCER-EYE—Looking like a flying saucer riding piggy-back on an airplane is this radome, announced by the Navy as carrying super-vision electronic eyes capable of doing the work of a dozen ground radar stations and marking a sharp advancement in America's airborne early warning network. The "strangest shape in the sky" is shown in flight near Weymouth (Mass.) Naval air station.

Ferndale Constable Feels Challenge in 'Manhunt'

by JOHN HOERR
Tribune Staff Reporter

Man for man, William Dahlerup probably could stack up against any of the man-hunting marshals of the Old West—without a pistol.

As a Ferndale constable, he has to feel a personal challenge in a modern equivalent of the old manhunt. Serving civil summonses is just as much man vs. man as it was in the days of Wyatt Earp.

Presents Challenge—

"When a man tries to avoid being served, it presents a challenge to me," Dahlerup said in an interview. "It gets me so enthused I want to get the man all the more.

"There's a real challenge in outmaneuvering the man to get him into position for bodily contact. That's necessary in serving summonses and processes.

"There's only one man I ever missed serving in my eight years as a constable. I've chased a man as high as two to three months before I've gotten him."

Dahlerup, who lives at 2372 Brickley, Ferndale, with his wife and four children, is a large, easy-speaking man. He knows the law, and he looks like he could handle physical trouble.

WILLIAM DAHLERUP

In Battle of Bulge—

He had plenty of that in the Army during World War II. A sergeant in the 28th Infantry division, he was one of only 44 men in his company of 340 who escaped death and the Germans during the Battle of the Bulge.

"It was miserable, believe me," he said. "It was strictly man for man. I was lucky."

Dahlerup won four battle stars and the combat infantryman's badge. After the end of the war in Europe, his division helped rehabilitate German civilians. This is where he became interested in people and the law.

"I've always tried to be helpful to the people I'm serving," he said. "I try to explain the rights they have in court.

Rough—

"Serving papers and confiscating goods in default of judgement can be rough because you might have to use force. I try to do it by peaceful means, but if I let sympathy sway me and walk out of there without the money or the goods, I've violated the law."

A constable is authorized to obtain money from a debtor against whom a writ has been issued. In lieu of money, he can take by force any possession of the debtor in the value of the debt.

Same Fees—

"The only trouble with the job," Dahlerup said, "is that we're getting the same fees for serving papers they were getting in the depression days of 1932."

According to state law, a constable gets four per cent on the first $200 owed by the person he serves. The fee is 2½ per cent for all over $200.

Dahlerup, who has a degree in industrial engineering from Wayne State university, worked as an engineer during his first six years as a constable. For the last two years the constable job has kept him busy.

"People are living beyond their means today," he said. "The first years I was in office times were prosperous and there wasn't too much court activity.

"Since the first of the year, I've had more business than during the past eight years. It must be the recession."

Another of the constable's duties is arresting persons who fail to appear in court for traffic violations. He gets $3.50 for each arrest.

"The constable is actually one of the oldest police officers in the country," he said. "Settlers in New England set up municipal courts with constables to do the police work.

Wide Authority—

"A constable now is mainly concerned with serving summonses and subpoenas for civil cases in his own community. But he has the authority to make arrests in any state.

"A lot of constables frown on performing a 'heavy action' in their own communities for fear of losing votes. They call in constables from other cities. But I've never turned down serving a person in my town."

Report Bagwell in Governor Race

EAST LANSING (AP)—Prof. Paul D. Bagwell has cleared away all doubt and firmly made up his mind to run for governor on the Republican ticket, it was learned today.

Bagwell, the 1956 GOP nominee for auditor general, planned today to ask for a four-month leave of absence from his post at Michigan State university to make the primary race.

His request to be relieved of duty as head of the department of communication skills was to be presented today at a meeting of the state board of agriculture, MSU governing body.

Friends said Bagwell will probably make his announcement in the second week of April and already has selected a site for temporary campaign headquarters.

Day To Head 'Future' Group

LANSING (UP) — Gov. Williams today named Michigan Bell Telephone company President William M. Day to head a committee which will attempt to work out a master plan for future development in Michigan.

The governor said he would name other members to the committee on Michigan's Economic Future after consulting with Day.

"The economy of Michigan and the whole country is in a state of transition," Williams said. "Population growth and revolution in production methods are creating vast economic changes. To meet the problems of this changing future, we need the best thought of our best leaders in industry, the colleges and universities, labor, the professions and government."

'Right-To-Know' Bill Death Seen

LANSING (UP) — A watered-down "right-to-know" bill was virtually dead in the House state affairs committee today but there was no mourning among its supporters.

Committee Chairman Lloyd Gibbs (R-Portland) said he will recommend that the Senate-approved bill be killed and an interim committee appointed to investigate "the whole area of freedom of information."

"The bill was confusing and too limited in scope," said committee member Sterling Eaton (R-Plymouth), an ex-publisher and former vice chairman of the National Editorial association's Freedom of Information committee. The bill, which would provide for open meetings of all governmental units, faced a flock of amendments in the House.

Badge Mystery Puzzles Police

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — State police had a minor mystery concerning one of their own people on their hands today.

Donald Reynolds of Mt. Pleasant found a badge belonging to the old Michigan state troops while cleaning out a farmhouse he had purchased near Remus. He turned the badge over to the Mt. Pleasant post.

The badge was numbered 251 and carried the identification "Mosey-1917" scratched on the back. Records at state police headquarters showed that Frank L. Mosey of Lake Odessa enlisted in the state troops in 1917 at the age of 21. There was no record of his discharge, however. The mystery came because all officers were required to turn in their badges on leaving the force.

Seeks Presley Story With Gun

MASON (UP) — A 15-year-old Elvis Presley fan faced probate court action today on charges she threatened another girl at gunpoint because the girl failed to surrender a Presley magazine article.

Mason police Captain Tim Stolz said the teenager loaned the article to her friend only after being promised it would be returned.

"When the article wasn't returned," Stolz said, "the girl managed to get a relative's 32-caliber pistol and tried to get the magazine back after school."

Stolz said a classmate wrestled the gun out of the girl's hands and called police.

MH Developer's Request Bounces

Councilman Charles B. Edwards Jr. of Madison Heights bounced a developer's request for a landscaped parkway right back to him.

Ira L. Spoon, developer of of Royal Madison shopping center at Twelve-Mile and Campbell, ask the city to negotiate with Royal Oak on prettying up the Campbell parkway.

Edwards said, "That's a wonderful suggestion. I think the shopping center should put it in." The council agreed and will set up a meeting with Spoon.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UP)—William Edmunds has his car back today —after fighting for it. Edmunds saw his automobile, which was stolen Monday, stopped at a red light. Enraged, he rushed forward and began fighting with the driver — Detective Donald March. March had just found the vehicle.

Village To Hire Two Policemen

Westwood Village will hire two more policemen and a clerk for its public safety department. The new policemen will be picked from 16 applicants Saturday.

Tests will be given to applicants at Barnum junior high school, Birmingham, at 10 a.m. They will be administered by the Detroit police examiner's office. All those who pass the tests will be placed on a priority list for future village officers.

To Hire Clerk—

The village council told Public Safety Director Robert E. Murphy to hire a clerk. No salary was set. Murphy said he will hire a boy, 18 to 20 years old, for the job. Murphy's new office is located in the township firehall on Thirteen-Mile west of Southfield.

Residents can call for police service at MI 6-6400 or they can call the Southfield police at EL 6-6622. Southfield will relay all calls to Westwood.

30 Apply—

Murphy said 30 applications were received for the police positions, "This figure was cut to 16," he said. "Applicants will be given a written and oral exam and a complete physical."

The village's public safety department now consists of two regular policemen, a trainee, a dog and Murphy. The department's only police car was wrecked in an accident last week end. A new car will be purchased.

Drums, Bugles Cheer Cagers

HARBOR SPRINGS, Mich. (AP)—The roll of drums and the blare of bugles cut through the early morning stillness today as hilarious Harbor Springs made merry on a continued basketball binge.

An American Legion drum and bugle corps escorted Harbor Springs high's victorious cagers back into town around midnight. The team had advanced to the semi-finals of the Class C state high school tournament by spanking Crystal Falls, 57-50, at Traverse City, 80 miles south.

About 500 of the resort town's 1,400 winter population made the trek to Traverse City. They wend-

Zauchin Seen Aiding Senators

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Thanks to the Boston Red Sox, there is new hope in the camp of the Washington Senators this spring. It all stems from a deal that brought a center fielder and a first baseman to the cellar club for handyman Pete Runnels.

Albie Pearson, a half pint (5-6) outfielder is counted upon to fill the defensive manhole in center. Norm Zauchin of Royal Oak, a .264 hitter with the Red Sox who never has lived up to his rookie promise of 1955, is the new first baseman.

When they asked manager Cookie Lavagetto what he needed most after the 1957 season, he said "outfielders who can catch and throw." Pearson may fill the bill.

"Everybody in Pacific Coast league speaks highly of him," said Lavagetto. "He definitely is my center fielder. "Pearson and Zauchin should help us," he said.

Michigan State's track quartet of Bob Hughes, Brian Castle, Dave Lean and Willie Atterberry won the one-mile and two-mile relay races at the 1958 Chicago Daily News Relays.

Pistons Blow 1st One to Hawks

Big Leads Disappear; Hagan Stars

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The second game in the National Basketball association semi-final playoff series between the Western division's regular season champion St. Louis Hawks and the Pistons, Saturday afternoon, can't possibly be anymore tension-packed than Wednesday night's opener here.

A national television audience will have the chance to look in on Saturday's battle at the University of Detroit fieldhouse in the best-of-seven-series. But it is doubtful if the contest will match the inaugural game at Kiel auditorium in the matter of thrills and chills.

Cliff Hagan, ex-University of Kentucky All-America who is just in his second season as a professional, netted 38 points to propel the Hawks to an important 114-111 opening triumph.

Hagan-Shue Duel—

Hagan, who blistered the nets for 11 points in each of the second, third and fourth quarters, continuously, brought the crowd of 7,328 to its feet with field goals from all angles. He was waging a personal scoring duel with the Pistons' fine backcourt ace, Gene Shue, who finished up with 29 markers.

The game, and the series for that matter, had been heralded as a point-making match between St. Louis' Bob Pettit and Detroit's George Yardley, two of the league's standout scorers. Pettit, who found it difficult getting around the rangy wingspread of Walt Dukes, had to settle for 14 points, and Yardley rimmed 20. Harry Gallatin contributed 21 to the Detroit cause and Jack Coleman, like Gallatin, a veteran of many pro cage wars, came through with a surprising total of 15.

Down as many as 15 points twice in the second period, St. Louis, which had split 12 regular season meetings with Detroit, overcame a 62-58 halftime deficit and moved ahead by five points in the third quarter only to drop behind by nine, 85-76, a few moments later.

One Fight—

The Hawks trailed by six, 90-84, as the teams headed into the final 12-minute stanza.

St. Louis sank 42 of 111 field goal attempts, compared to Detroit's 36 for 88 chart. The Pistons, who had disposed of Cincinnati in two straight preliminary playoff games last weekend, had an edge in foul shots, 39-30.

With slightly more than two minutes to play in the second quarter, Yardley and Win Wilfong of the Hawks were involved in a skirmish that brought all players, auditorium police and several spectators to the playing court. But the trouble was quickly dispelled.

The teams return here for the third game Sunday afternoon and go back to Detroit for test No. 4 next Tuesday. Fifth, sixth and seventh games, if needed, will be played here March 27, at Detroit March 29, and back here again March 30, respectively.

Michigan State's veteran baseball coach, John H. Kobs, is chairman of the NCAA baseball rules committee.

Another Solid Club for Casey This Year

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Yogi Berra walked over to the Yankee batting cage at Huggins field here, wearing a white glove on one hand.

"What's the glove for, Casey?" this reporter asked, knowing that Yogi was bothered with some sort of rash.

"Who, Yogi?" Casey countered, "why, he's probably going to a noon wedding and he's already started to dress."

This is Casey Stengel, as always, and the Yankees are the Yankees, as always.

Not His Usual Self—

Casey, however, was suffering from a cold and probably that World Series setback, and he wasn't his usual self throughout. One could tell that because, ordinarily, Casey just rambles and it takes a United Nations interpreter to untangle his lingo. This day, however, Casey could be made out, with few cuties interspersed.

The defending champions in the American league, who snagged eight pennants in nine years under the old guy, are solid as usual with a few new faces which always bring out the superlatives in Casey's dialogue.

One of the new ones is Deron Johnson, an outfielder who was the most valuable player for Richmond last season. This big fellow impressed in the Yankee rookie camp and has hit several over the center field fence here, 438 feet out, and already is being nicknamed "Long Ball."

"Johnson's going to be good," Casey said emphatically. "And don't leave here until you see him hit because then you won't be able to write your story."

Other newcomers trying to break into the versatile Yankee lineup are Zack Monroe, a 16-game winner with Denver; John James, who was 8-5 with Richmond; Rinold Duren, the 29-year-old rookie who had a 13-2 mark for Denver and tabbed as finally ready; Ed Dick, a strikeout leader at Binghamton, Jim Coates, 14-11 at Richmond; John Blanchard, a power-hitting catcher from Denver; infielders Marv Throneberry and Fritz Brickell, from Denver, and Norm Siebern, the young outfielder, also from Denver.

Versatile Players—

Casey spends most of his time telling you about the versatile players, several of whom can fill in most anywhere. Tony Kubek's draft status may have some effect in the infield, and may be a factor in a deal for Bobby Richardson, whom Cleveland wants.

The ailing members of the Yanks — Whitey Ford, Mickey Mantle, and Moose Skowron, reportedly are in good shape and Mantle apparently is happy with his $75,000 pay, and should be.

The Yankee key could be pitching, although Casey has so many major leaguers on his roster he'll have trouble deciding on starters.

"Our pitching staff isn't bad," Casey smiled. "I got numbers. You know we used to come down here with guys like Reynolds, Raschi, and Lopat but today we got numbers.

Ford Is No. 1—

"I suppose Ford would be No. 1 and we'd been in trouble last year without Bobby Shantz when Ford got hurt. I've got two left-handers with me but you know that brings up the Detroit lineup and did you ever notice how they got almost all righthanded batters?

"They say I got to make a deal. I don't know. I know that Lane is in town and any time he's in town he gets on the telephone. Oh, well, we'll see what we see."

Slaughter Back—

Back again is that old warhorse, Enos Slaughter, who is ready to fill in anywhere that Casey needs him, and Slaughter looks as young as he has in the past.

The Yankees are a solid club, and with a solid Ford, Berra, and some pitching help, they could be even better than last year.

Woman Invades Fistic Realm

NEW YORK (AP)—Measured by modern standards, Tuesday night's world championship middleweight bout will be an old-fashioned fight. It will reach the homes of America's non-paying fight fans on radio only.

But before the man of the house gets ready to square off with one or more of the persons who decide these things, he should consider the matter a little bit further.

Basilio vs. Sugar—

If he must see the 15-round bout between champion Carmen Basilio and former titleholder Sugar Ray Robinson, he has two alternatives. A trip to Chicago Stadium could be considered, or, for considerably less expense, the fight can be seen at theater outlets in 38 states, the District of Columbia, and Canada. The theater-TV promotion is being handled by Teleprompter corporation; the broadcast by CBS radio.

Tuesday night CBS is turning the microphone over to a woman for color commentary between rounds. She's Dr. Joyce Brothers, a 28-year-old petite blonde who divides her interests between psychology and boxing.

She also knows a little bit about television. She used it to make a ringful of cash by answer-

END OF THE STREAK—Troy went down fighting in the Class B quarter-finals, being nosed out by two points by Flint Tech. (Right) Wayne Figley outmaneuvered Tech's Mike Kerner for a layup. Shaky Troy, Stopped at 20, Sobs: 'Too Little, Too Late'

First Half Famine Is Fatal

by DAYTON PERRIN
Sports Editor

LANSING—The longest winning streak in South Oakland prep basketball history snapped at 20 games Wednesday night.

A cold first half did the damage as Troy high bowed to fast-breaking Flint Tech, 48-46, in the state Class B quarterfinals at the Lansing civic center.

Pressure finally caught up with Coach Peyton Goodwin's quintet against a Flint team which carried a 22-1 record into the tussle.

Too Long Waking Up—

"We just took too long to wake up," said Goodwin, following the defeat witnessed by 4,400 fans.

"Our comeback potential showed up in the second half. But why not sooner?"

Troy trailing 41-30, made a great bid for victory as the fourth period opened. A round of Troy baskets, capped by Richard Booth's two-pointer, narrowed the count to 43-40 with three minutes left.

Pressing on defense, however, led to Troy fouls that Tech turned into the winning points. They made five free throws in the last minute and 21 seconds to wrap it up. In that span three fouls were charged against Wayne Figley and one against Dave Roat. Goodwin absolved both.

"That's the chance you take when you're battling to get the ball," he said.

"We just weren't loose enough on offense. Had we shot with abandon in that first half, we could have won. We backed off instead of trying to match their driving style.

"Their fast break hurt us that first half. We should have been pouring it at them the same way but we didn't."

Troy's belated rally twice brought them to within one point in the final 30 seconds. At that juncture, Dick Booth's layup made it 45-44. But Tech's Angelo Panoff cashed in two free throws with 18 seconds left to make it 47-44. Those proved to be the winning points.

Figley swished a basket that brought it to 47-46 with eight seconds remaining. But Figley drew his third foul almost immediately and Mike Kerner dropped a free throw with four seconds showing.

The Colts, tense and jittery, shot only 18 per cent from the field the first half, enabling ball-hawking Tech to grab a 27-19 edge at the intermission. It was 16-7 in the first quarter, Tech's fast break and give-and-go against troy's zone sparking the quick getaway.

Free throw futility helped kill Troy, only 8-of-18 to Tech's 8-for-12.

Booth led both teams with 20 points, Figley adding 11.

Panoff counted 13 for Flint but teammate Gerald Beebe nailed 17. The 6' forward hit 'em long and short, showing why he's one of only three Flint-area players ever to score 1,000 points in their prep careers.

Tech shows a 40-5 two-year record under Coach Al Gricius, whose wife, by the way, was graduated from Royal Oak high.

Hugh Kirtek was the big gun with a 25-point effort. Jim Blovits added 18 and Jim Wagner 10. Zeke Travis and Bob Martin had 10 each for Tom's.

VFW won third-place consolation with a 43-41 overtime triumph over Edison. Edison led 19-17 at halftime and 33-23 at the end of three quarters.

VFW rallied for 16 points to tie it 39-all at the end of regulation time. Dick Sentell's basket pulled Edison into the tie. In the extra session, free throws by Bob Kelley and Bud Gerschke and a bucket by Gary Pitcher iced it. Louie Lemak got the losers' only basket in overtime.

Bud Roush had 13 for winners, Kelley 12, Sentell and Bud Marra had 12 each for losers.

Rademacher Hurls Challenge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pete Rademacher's challenge to the National Boxing association's No. 1 heavyweight contender was considered today by the No. 2 as well.

Manager Sid Flaherty said his No. 1 contender, Eddie Machen, would be willing to box Rademacher but "feels a substantial sum should be guaranteed, Machen having everything to lose and nothing to gain.

Machen, who lives at Redding, Calif., fights Zora Folley, ranked No. 2 in San Francisco's Cow Palace April 9. Bill Swift, Folley's manager, thinks his fighter will be No. 1 April 10.

"We'd be willing to box Rademacher after the Machen fight and there would be no need for him to put up any guarantee," Swift said from San Jose where his Chandler, Ariz., fighter shows in an exhibition Friday.

Rademacher, who came from Grandview, Wash., issued the challenge in letters to sports writers throughout the country. He was knocked out in August by champion Floyd Patterson in his only professional fight and would like to earn another shot at the title.

Flaherty, incidentally, said Machen supporters would post $250,000 "with any commission, any place for a title fight with Patterson."

No Second Chance—

The champion's manager, Cus D'Amato, has repeatedly said Machen turned down a bid to fight for the title and won't get a second chance.

Flaherty went on: "We feel certain that Rademacher's backers would be willing to back their favorite against Machen financially and of course help him obtain a win over the No. 1 contender. Rademacher would first have to convince Machen and I think he will take some convincing."

Boxers' Aides Fight First

CHICAGO (AP)—Middleweight champion Carmen Basilio and challenger Ray Robinson concentrated on the last days of training for their Tuesday title bout today, ignoring the signs of tension displayed by their handlers.

Robinson's advisors, George Gainford and Killer Johnson, and Basilio's handlers, manager John De John and trainer Joe Netro, turned an Illinois Athletic commission hearing into a forum with a verbal controversy on how much vaseline might be used on a fighter and where and what type of salve might be used to stop bleeding from a cut.

Robinson walked out of the hearing, his part of the performance completed before Gainford began to squabble, and Basilio tried to cut De John and Netro short in order to get out of the session.

Gainford alleged that Netro used a harmful salve on cuts over Basilio's eyes when the fighter won the middleweight crown from Robinson last Sept. 23 on a split decision in New York. He contended the salve got into Robinson's eyes and bothered him.

Campy Eyes Trip to Cal.

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Roy Campanella, still paralyzed from the waist down, hopes to go to California this year to be near his Los Angeles Dodgers.

Frank Slocum, a member of Commissioner Ford Frick's office, visited the veteran catcher, who suffered a broken neck in an automobile accident near his home Jan. 28.

Slocum was the first visitor allowed in Campanella's room outside Mrs. Campanella and the attending physicians.

Slocum said Campanella now is able to flex muscles in his arms and fingers and the doctors regard this as favorable.

The hospital said: "The paralysis has disappeared from the extreme upper areas, and that is a sign of hope."

Slocum said Campanella is in good spirits and listens to radio reports of spring exhibition games.

Kaline's Arm Not Hurt Bad; Bonus Boys Leave

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Tigers learned that outfielder Al Kaline, who injured his right elbow in a pre-game workout at St. Petersburg Tuesday, is not seriously hurt.

Kaline was told not to throw for a few days but no serious after-effects were anticipated. He injured his arm making an underhand throw.

The scheduled game against the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday was cancelled because of wet grounds.

Steve Boros and George Thomas, collegian bonus boys of 1957, both were optioned to Birmingham of the Southern Association, bringing the camp here down to 32 players, plus two returning servicemen and one on minor league contract.

Rangers Tie, Flub Clincher

by Associated Press

Coach Phil Watson figures his New York Rangers have nothing to worry about even though they have had two chances to clinch second place in the National Hockey League and flubbed them both.

"We should beat Toronto at least once in our two games over the weekend," he said today, "and that will sew it up for us."

Wednesday night, the Blueshirts were held to a 1-1 tie by Boston. Sunday night, they were beaten by the Montreal Canadiens. The Rangers picked up one point as a result of the deadlock with the Bruins. But they still need a victory to cement the position. A tie or a loss by Detroit also would give the No. 2 spot to New York.

Orioles' Hurler Goes Route

by Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles' Billy O'Dell became the first hurler in the majors to go nine innings this spring when he defeated the Chicago Cubs, 7-3, with a 7-hitter at Mesa, Ariz.

O'Dell played in the Cuban winter league, and is further advanced than other moundsmen. Five games were cancelled, all in Florida, because of rain or wet grounds.

The Kansas City Athletics defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-7, in 12 innings at Fort Myers, Fla., and the San Francisco Giants were beaten, 6-3, by the Cleveland Indians at Phoenix, Ariz.

Penalty Costs Vaughn Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I could have penalized him more," declared Referee Marty Gallagher today in reply to middleweight Willie Vaughn's protests against a rough-tactics ruling that cost Vaughn victory by one point and gave him only a draw with Jimmy Beecham.

Their TV 10-rounder at the New Capitol arena was their third (and rubber) match within two months; for Vaughn of Los Angeles had out-pointed Beecham of Miami Beach Feb. 4 and Beecham had turned the fables March 4.

Gallagher penalized Vaughan one point for "a low blow and for pushing" in the fourth round, and he went to the two judges and asked them to do the same.

Sea-Going Golf Pro Always Keeps on Go

by OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (AP)—"Lighthorse Harry" Cooper is on the briny today chalking up his 90,000th mile as the world's only sea-going golf pro while proving once again that golf doesn't have to be the crawling contest which most pros make it.

One of the first great Texans of the fairway, Cooper earned his nickname when he won the Los Angeles Open in a record two hour and 30 minute round. He's still under a full head of steam, literally and figuratively, as golf pro of the S.S. Homeric on its luxury cruises among the Caribbean ports.

In the process he has everybody from the head cook to the captain waggling a golf club and speaking an unheard of nautical jargon concerning birdie buffets and bad-lie longitude.

Talks to All—

Cooper sweeps over the ship like a tidal wave, discussing a looping backswing with the head bartender, advising the dishwasher on how to play a ball buried saucer deep in water, conducting daily clinics on the sundeck for as many as 60 passengers at a time and giving private lessons from sunup until dusk.

"You've got to keep moving, just like they should on the golf course," Cooper says in his machine-gun manner. "Players take entirely too long to play a round of golf these days. Those five-hour rounds are a disgrace and there should be stiff penalties for such slow-motion play."

Cooper is making his 14th cruise aboard the Homeric, which totes tourists to such ports as Nassau, San Juan, St. Thomas, Curacao, Kingston, Havana, Barbados, Port Au Prince, Port of Spain, Cristobal and San Blas.

The golfers aboard gear their swing deckside under his critical eye and, when they reach port, Cooper conducts them to the local golf course for a morning round. That leaves the afternoon for shopping, which makes the seaborne golf widows happy again.

"Cabs meet us at the dock and we whisk off to the golf course before it gets hot," Lighthorse explains. "Caddies are waiting and off we go. And the beauty of it is how inexpensive it is to play a long of strange and beautiful courses. The cost averages from $3.75 per person at Port of Spain, Trinidad, to $5.50 to play the new course at Jamaica which was carved out of a sugar plantation."

At the final port of call, wherever it may be, Cooper runs a tournament which is decided under the Callaway system. Prizes are awarded at a dinner party the final night aboard. Only once has Cooper been shocked by his pupils.

One of them walked up to the ship, looked disgustedly at the set of clubs he was carrying, and then snorting "the dickens with it," or words to that effect, tossed the clubs overboard.

It was only a gag cooked up for the teacher with an old set of clubs. But Harry thought for a moment it was time to settle down on dry land. As it is, he's liable to be around longer than Captain Bligh.

Berkley Promoter High on Summerlin

DETROIT (AP) — "Summerlin would put Floyd Patterson away in about 12 rounds," promoter C. W. Smith of Berkley declared Wednesday.

The 6'5" millionaire engineering executive paused in his discourse to "crack Johnny's back" before the Detroit heavyweight stepped in the ring to go three rounds with Willie Coleman. This consisted of grabbing Summerlin under the arm pits and shaking him out as if he were a stuck slide rule.

Smith grunted a little from the effect and went on: "I think Patterson must have a hole in him. I saw him fight that big fella (Pete Rademacher) out West, and that big fella wouldn't last half a round with John."

In Top Five—

Summerlin, who had worked his way into the nation's top five in the rankings in 1955, was idle all last year as his manager got tangled up with the law.

He has won his first two fights since returning to action this winter and will be looking for his third straight against Artie Miller of New York in a 10-round headliner at the Motor city arena Saturday.

"John might need another fight or so before he's ready, but when he's ready he can take any of those boys," Smith chortled. "Look at him!"

Spars at Half Speed—

Summerlin was catching Coleman with a ripping double hook combination. Sweat sprayed from both fighters.

"He's only punching at half speed," Smith drawled. "Coleman is good but Johnny wants to keep his sparring partner.

"If Summerlin is ready after a couple of fights, we might try to get him (Wayne) Bethea," Smith confided. "This boy, John, is going to be better than he ever was. You just watch him."

Stokes on Mend, Report Doctors

CINCINNATI (AP) — Doctors say Maurice Stokes, pro basketball star stricken with encephalitis, is on the mend but will likely take weeks to recover.

Dr. C. R. Hunter said the disease has been pinpointed as encephalitis, a brain inflammation. Stokes was taken off the hospital critical list. Stokes, Cincinnati Royals' star became ill on a flight here from Detroit last Saturday.

BE SMART! SAVE DOLLARS NOT STAMPS!

"TRADING STAMPS," SAID THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT, ARE AN APPEAL TO STUPIDITY. HERE'S a very good reason why: LAST YEAR MORE THAN 25 MILLION DOLLARS was paid out by retailers to trading stamp companies in the METROPOLITAN DETROIT AREA ALONE. This is enough money to cover the deficits in the city budget and go a long way toward helping solve the state financial crisis. $25,000,000 is a lot of money to shell out for "FREE" Stamps.

Ridge Hires Rec Supervisor

Pleasant Ridge has a new supervisor for its recreation center at 4 Ridge road. The city commission hired Mrs. Wanda Sadler, 219 East Ten Mile, Royal Oak, Wednesday night.

Her starting salary is $3,200 a year. The center has been without a permanent supervisor since Mrs. Eleanor Chope resigned in September.

Center activities, almost at a standstill since Mrs. Chope left, will start immediately. The Junior Canteen will open again Friday night. About 100 seventh and eighth graders from Roosevelt and Coolidge school usually came to the canteen. It's been closed for three weeks.

Four members of the city's six-member recreation advisory board resigned last month because the commission had refused to hire a supervisor. The commission, by a split vote, rejected the board's recommendation for a supervisor.

Mrs. Sadler has been a candidate for the Royal Oak school board and is active in PTA work. She was president of the Royal Oak PTA council from 1954 to 1956. She has taught Sunday school for nine years.

Army Brutality Trial Figure Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Col. James A. Kilian, central figure in a sensational 1946 court martial stemming from brutality to prisoners in a World War II replacement depot in England, died yesterday at Walter Reed hospital.

Death of the 67-year-old retired Army officer was attributed to cancer.

Kilian, wartime commander of the U.S. Army replacement depot at Lichfield, England, was convicted by a military court of permitting brutality to Army prisoners at the depot guardhouse. He was fined $500 and reprimanded after his trial at Bad Nauheum, Germany, in August 1946.

Kilian, one of several officers and enlisted men convicted during a lengthy, stormy court martial of brutality at Lichfield, contended he knew nothing about the mistreatment.

Madison Hears Swan Song

The Arpi Swedish Singing club of Detroit told Madison Heights city council it will look elsewhere for a new location. It cited "unfavorable publicity."

The nationally organized choral club wanted to remodel a vacant factory at 25812 John R, transfering its private liquor license.

But councilmen said they wondered whether the club would cause a "nuisance" and said they did not know anything about the singing society.

Gein House Burns, Ends Controversy

PLAINFIELD, Wis. (AP)—The farmhouse where Edward Gein butchered his murder victims and hid the bodies he looted from graves was destroyed by fire early today.

Vacant since the arrest of Gein, 51-year-old bachelor recluse, last fall, the house had figured recently in a local controversy. Several area clergymen, among others, had protested plans for an auction of the Gein property on Palm Sunday. Authorities are investigating cause of the blaze.

The fire at the farm, seven miles from here, was spotted from town by Police Chief Burt Carlson. He notified the fire department whose chief is Frank Worden, son of Mrs. Bernice Worden, one of Gein's murder victims. The blaze was out of control by the time firemen arrived. Adjacent buildings were saved.

MH Man Held in Robbery

Police in Worcester, Mass., are holding a 26-year-old Madison Heights man and a companion, age 21, for transporting $4,220 in money orders stolen in a Detroit safe robbery.

Held on $2,000 bond is Earl L. Crowley, whose address is listed as 804 East Eleven-Mile, Madison Heights. Crowley and George A. Sherrill, age 21, were arrested near Southboro, Mass., on March 1. Sherrill has signed a waiver to permit extradition to Detroit for trial, the FBI's Boston office said.

Police said the pair admitted spending $7,900 in funds obtained with stolen American Express money orders, but have denied the safe robbery.

Drums, Bugles

ed their way back in a boisterous, horn-honking motor caravan, the happy players leading the victory procession.

Even the Emmet county sheriff's department got into the act, providing the revelers with an official escort into town from nearby Petoskey.

Glenn Babcock, an operator at Harbor Springs' light plant, summed up the partying: "We're opening her wide open and having a bang up time," enthused Babcock, whose job prevented him from seeing the game.

Complete with Indians—

Five local Indians, adorned in full war regalia, and many of the coeds who dyed their hair orange and black for the occasion were there in loud voice.

The zany atmosphere started two weeks ago when Harbor Springs won its district tournament for the first time in 16 years. There was dancing on main street at 2 a.m. Then many on the high school's faculty changed their hairdos. The men suddenly became crewcuts, some in full view of a school assembly, and the women became flaming redheads.

Oak Park To Set Swim Pool Fees

Oak Park's city council will set fees soon for the city's new swimming pool on Oak Park boulevard west of Coolidge. The pool is scheduled to open June 1.

The recreation advisory board recommended this week that fees be set at 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults. The board suggested season tickets for $3 and $4 also be made available.

The council asked City Manager Virgil C. Knowles to study the recommendations and report back next month. "We'll charge just enough to operate the pool," Knowles said. "We don't want to make any profit."

He estimated it will cost about $1,000 a week to operate the 165 by 42 foot pool. The pool will be opened for about 12 weeks, he said. The pool will be for swimming only. There are no diving boards.

Swimming depth goes from three to five feet. About 1,000 lockers will be available for bathers.

Chrysler Pacts at $20 Million

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler corporation said today its share of the $100 million in military truck contracts announced by Army Secretary Brucker would amount to between $15 and $20 million.

But spokesmen for the corporation emphasized Chrysler had received no official notification of the contract and would make no comment on the number of persons who might be employed making the trucks until the ratification was received.

Brucker announced the $100 million in contracts would be awarded within 30 days and that Chrysler would receive a contract for 3,200 ¾-ton trucks and 1,000 one-ton vehicles.

Chrysler said production of parts, engines and assembly of the vehicles would take place in the southeast Michigan area if it got the contract.

Man Found Dead Near Highway

A 78-year-old man was found dead beside a tree on US-10 a few miles north of Pontiac early today. He had been shot through the heart. A .32 caliber revolver was near the body.

Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac Prevette ruled the death of Frank Thorpe, age 78, suicide.

Sheriff's deputies found Thorpe after two passing motorists, Albert Witting, of Holly, and Sheldon W. McTaggart, of Detroit, saw the body from the roadway.

Fair Exchange?

ALNWICK, England (AP)—John Swordy, 27-year-old laborer, was jailed for a year yesterday for stealing his mother's pet parakeets and selling them for $8.40 for beer money.

HE'S THEIR MAN—Guitarist Richard Nichols is an early "captive" in a talent search by the Fraternal Order of Police for a country music show. Sgt. Paul Myatt of Madison Heights, Patrolman Melvin Daniels, Hazel Park, show chairman, and Sgt. Charles Young, Hazel Park, are arranging auditions for local talent for March 29.

South Oakland Police Hunt Teenage Music 'Suspects'

If your interest lies in country, Western, or "jest plain hillbilly" music — and you feel you have youthful talent — the police are looking for you.

They seek teen talent to appear in a big Audrey Williams' show they're planning this summer.

The police are the Fraternal Order of Police, a chapter of which is being organized in Hazel Park-Madison Heights-Royal Oak. The local chapter is cooperating in the state-wide talent search.

Auditions will be held by the chapter at Pappy and Russ Square Dance center, 843 East Eight-Mile, from 1-3 p.m., Sunday, March 30. Appointments for an audition may be arranged through Gene Stapleton at 23005 John R, telephone LI 8-7100.

Both singers and instrumentalists are welcome, Stapleton said.

Those selected will appear with other regional contestants from Michigan, Ontario and Indiana at a gigantic talent show being planned for June.

Star of the show will be Audrey Williams, wife of the late Hank Williams, beloved by country music fans.

Confederate Vets' War Records Saved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some old soldiers, especially Confederates, never fade away so far as the national archives are concerned.

A House appropriations subcommittee was asked for $60,000 to start microfilming cards which contain the military service records of Confederate veterans.

"There has been a great demand for such data from the southern states which did not get this kind of information from the Federal government after the Civil War," U.S. archivist Wayne C. Grover told the subcommittee.

Uphold Conviction of Law Official

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Conviction of Dist. Atty. William Langley on a charge of deliberate failure to prosecute gambling was upheld yesterday by the Oregon supreme court.

Langley, age 42, was removed from office and fined $100 a year ago in one of the major trials of Portland's vice investigation.

The former chief legal officer of Multnomah county (Portland) appealed the conviction, contending he was deprived of a fair trial because photographers were permitted in the courtroom and because the gambling in question was for charity and therefore, legal.

The opinion by Justice Hall S. Lusk deplored the photographers' presence in the court but said this was not an error on which Langley's conviction could be reversed.

Madison Approves Osmun Water Line

Madison Heights councilmen approved a water line for Osmun, between Grieg and Cowan — with special permission to two residents to use their private systems.

Donald E. Osantowski, 26151 Osmun, and Justice of the Peace Hendrik J. Smit, 26304 Osmun, both will be assessed for construction of the main. Smit, now using a well, will have to pay a tap-in charge when he joins the city system. Osantowski paid a tap charge when he installed a private line.

Mrs. Virginia M. Solberg voted against the arrangement in protest. She wants the council to decide on a special assessment policy for all districts.

Denver Must Refund 4.5 Million in Auto Fines, Free 600 Prisoners

DENVER (AP) — The City of Denver today faced the possibility of being required to return an estimated $4,500,000 collected in traffic fines over a long period.

And more than 600 prisoners serving time in the Denver jail are contemplating their release.

Both developments are the result of a far-reaching decision of the Colorado Supreme court.

Jury Trial Right—

The high court ruled that persons tried for violations of city ordinances in municipal courts must be given the same protection under the law as if they were tried by state courts — if there were state statutes covering the crime.

The protection the Supreme court was talking about includes the right to trial by jury—and municipal courts in Colorado home rule cities have been prosecuting such crimes without jury trials.

It's doubtful if many of the prisoners understand the legal niceties involved — but they all understood the possibility they might get out.

Would Go Broke—

The situation has caused a crisis throughout the state. Some cities claim they will go bankrupt if they have to try drunk driving and other cases with juries consistently.

This week's decision was the latest judicial blow at Colorado's penal methods.

Previous decisions at every step along the judicial ladder—including the U.S. Supreme Court—have freed up to 25 prisoners on technicalities. And the state legal department is currently inundated by petitions for freedom by other prisoners on similar grounds.

16 Tots Die in Hospital Epidemic

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A spreading bacterial infection, which resists antibiotics, has claimed the lives of 16 babies in the past two and a half months at City-County hospital here.

All the deaths have been in the hospital's newborn and premature nurseries.

A hospital announcement by the board of managers said that incomplete statistics show at least 81 babies have been infected, and 21 mothers infected in February alone.

The announcement said the bacteria is suspected of a key role in an increased number of pneumonia cases among elderly patients. It was described as the same epidemic strain that has been picked up in other hospitals throughout the country.

Phone church news to LI 1-4870, Ext. 50, before noon, Thursday.

Back Scratchers Disagree in MH

Councilmen disagreed on who should be credited for getting Madison Heights a branch post office. The U.S. Post Office department is taking construction bids for a building north of the Twelve-Mile on John R.

Councilman Darrel K. Davis said letters of thanks should be sent to Congressman William S. Broomfield (Republican of Royal Oak) and to Grant D. Maudlin, Royal Oak postmaster.

Councilman John B. Michrina called for an addition: his re-election campaign mate. Councilman George Sargeant. Michrina said, "I think Mr. Sargeant did a lot of work on this. There should be a resolution — he should have some credit."

Mayor Lloyd H. Ferguson said, "I think the whole council has worked on it. I spent a couple of hours on it—wrote a couple of letters."

Mrs. Virginia M. Solberg cut in, "Let's vote on Mr. Davis' motion." Letters will go to Broomfield and Maudlin.

Protests Proposed School Fund Cut

LANSING (AP) — Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, protested today that he could not see how the legislature could seriously consider appropriating less money for his department next year than this year.

The Senate Appropriations committee has recommended a department appropriation of $515,000 for the coming school year, down $53,000 from the present year.

"Acceptance of the committee's recommendations would mean drastic elimination of needed services to all Michigan school districts," Bartlett said.

The cut, Bartlett said is being made in the face of an expected 70,000 increase in school enrollments next year and a six per cent jump in the cost of living in the past two years.

Sabotage Kits Have A-Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army apparently has small nuclear explosive kits for sabotaging an enemy's bridges, tunnels, factories and other installations or impeding his advance in a war zone.

They have to be small, perhaps almost small enough to be carried in a suitcase.

Cryptic reference to the "atomic demolition materiel" is contained in an otherwise routine, nonsecret regulation issued recently.

Officials declined to discuss the matter, other than to confirm the existence of the atomic demolition equipment, as mentioned in the regulation, and to say it was developed jointly by Army ordnance and the Atomic Energy commission.

Robs Bank, Then 'Home, James'

CRANBROOK, England (AP) —An armed robber, who arrived in a hired car with an unsuspecting chauffeur, held up Lloyds bank and fled with 2,274 pounds ($6,367).

A pursuing police patrol forced the puzzled chauffeur to pull over to the curb and arrested the passenger. He gave his name as Martin Searby, age 17, and was charged with robbery with violence. The money was recovered.

Pontiac Given Renewal Funds

An advance grant of $90,112 for the first urban renewal project in Pontiac has been approved by a Federal agency.

Congressman William S. Broomfield, Royal Oak Republican, said the Federal Housing and Home Finance agency announced the initial planning grant along with $1.6 million to help carry out the project.

The total Federal aid will amount to about two-thirds of an estimated $2.5 million for a renewal project in a 155-acre area in the south central portion of the city.

An urban renewal project has been underway in Royal Oak township for the past several years.

The first grant to Pontiac will be used for a planning study by the city's engineering consultants, Geer associates, Birmingham, which also is doing the township planning.

Group Helps Pay for Magic Square

The Lincoln Improvement Association made its second $100 contribution to Ferndale's Magic Square campaign.

The Recreation Advisory committee is continuing its efforts to place Magic Squares in each Ferndale park. It hopes to place a half-size magic square (60' x 120') in Mapledale Park before school is out in June.

Individuals and organizations will be solicited for donations until each park has a Magic Square.
